The Knopf Doubleday Publishing Group publishes a broad selection of fiction and nonfiction titles appropriate for First-Year Experience® and common reading programs. The books recommended in our 2020 catalog will help instigate reflection and discussion among students, who will begin their academic life with a shared experience: ready to discuss the stories of others—and thus ready to share their own stories as well.
DEAR FIRST-YEAR PROGRAM ADMINISTRATOR,

We are thrilled to present this year’s recommendations for First-Year students. Selected with Common Reading programs, freshman seminars, and composition courses in mind, you’ll find a variety of critically acclaimed and award-winning titles that will engage, challenge, and captivate your students. With proven appeal to a broad range of interdisciplinary subjects, these books will not only spur interesting discussions in the classroom, but also model excellent writing and offer new perspectives. This year’s catalog features titles intended to . . .

INSPIRE STUDENTS: Our memoirs capture fascinating true stories of resilience, finding your passion, and overcoming the seemingly impossible. In CALL ME AMERICAN, Abdi Nor Iftin recounts how his profound love for America and the idea it represents led him on a journey from war-torn Somalia to the United States. NOTES FROM A YOUNG BLACK CHEF chronicles the life of award-winning chef Kwame Onwuachi—from sleeping in a closet in the Bronx, to living in rural Nigeria, to working at some of Manhattan’s finest restaurants. EAT LIKE A FISH shares one man’s passion for restorative ocean farming—and how it just might help save the planet.

ENCOURAGE DYNAMIC DISCUSSIONS: Journalists Eli Saslow and Anand Giridharadas foster critical thinking about today’s pressing issues. Saslow’s RISING OUT OF HATRED follows former white supremacist Derek Black as his peers at the New College of Florida help him unlearn the political teachings of his family. In WINNERS TAKE ALL, Giridharadas takes on the philanthropy industry, showing students how the rich and powerful constantly seek to do more good (but never less harm), and how students can and must institute changes.

FACILITATE CREATIVE THINKING: In an age of constant communication, it’s become more important than ever to develop creative thinking skills. DESIGNING YOUR LIFE helps students apply the same design thinking used to develop new technology to design creative academic careers unique to their needs and interests. A new addition to our list, Rob Walker’s THE ART OF NOTICING features over one hundred exercises that map ways for students to become clearer thinkers, better listeners, more creative individuals, and notice what really matters.

If you have questions about our titles, author availability for campus visits, or need sample copies for your committee, please contact us. We’re happy to help you in any way we can.

Sincerely,

The Knopf Doubleday Academic Services Team

THERE THERE
By Tommy Orange
NOW IN PAPERBACK

Tommy Orange’s shattering novel follows twelve characters from Native communities: all traveling to the Big Oakland Powwow, all connected to each other in ways they may not yet realize. There is Jacquie Red Feather, newly sober and working to make it back to the family she left behind; Dene Oxendene, who is pulling his life back together after his uncle’s death, has come to work at the powwow to honor his memory; fourteen-year-old Orvil has come to perform traditional dance for the very first time.

Together, this chorus of voices tells of the plight of the urban Native American—grappling with a complex and painful history, with an inheritance of beauty and spirituality, with communion and sacrifice and heroism. THERE THERE captures a collection of unique voices and stories, expanding the literary representation of Native Americans.

FINALEST FOR THE PULITZER PRIZE FOR FICTION
WINNER OF THE PEN/Hemingway Award
WINNER OF THE CENTER FOR FICTION FIRST NOVEL PRIZE

“There There has so much jangling energy and brings so much news from a distinct corner of American life that it’s a revelation.”
—THE NEW YORK TIMES

“There is so much joy and beauty in there there. It is a revelation.”
—TOM GLAVIN

“This is a book that is not to be missed. It is a book that will resonate with readers everywhere.”
—THE CHICAGO SUN-TIMES

“With a literary authority rare in a debut novel, [There There] places Native American voices front and center before readers’ eyes.”
—NPR, FRESH AIR

TOMMY ORANGE is a graduate of the MFA program at the Institute of American Indian Arts. An enrolled member of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma, he was born and raised in Oakland, California.

Growing up Derek Black never thought to question his family’s belief in white nationalism. It seemed as though white supremacy was an inherent truth. Then he went to college. At the New College of Florida, Derek lives a double-life: secretly broadcasting his views on his morning radio show, but never in the classroom. When a classmate uncovers his identity, Derek soon faces backlash from the campus, forcing him to face the ugliness of his beliefs for the first time. Derek’s classmates struggle to find the best way to handle the news, with many protesting his presence on campus. Other students find the courage to reach out to him, including an Orthodox Jew who invites Derek to attend weekly Shabbat dinners. Through those dinners—and the conversations shared at the table—Derek’s classmates help him understand new perspectives, giving hope that hatred can be unlearned.

ELI SASLOW is a staff writer for The Washington Post and a contributor to ESPN The Magazine. He has won a Pulitzer Prize for explanatory reporting and a George Polk Award for national reporting, and has been a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in feature writing. His works include Ten Letters: The Stories Americans Tell Their President and American Hunger: The Pulitzer Prize-Winning Washington Post Series. He lives in Oregon with his wife and two daughters.

“Vivid. . . . During this period of deepening racial division, there is the possibility of redemption.” —THE WASHINGTON POST

“The story of Derek Black is the human being at his gutsy, self-reflecting, revolutionary best, told by one of America’s best storytellers at his very best. . . . If the successor to the white nationalist movement can forsake his ideological upbringing . . . then we can too.”

BLACK IS THE BODY
Stories from My Grandmother’s Time, My Mother’s Time, and Mine
By Emily Bernard

“Brown is the body I was born into. Black is the body of the stories I tell.”

In these twelve deeply personal, connected essays, Bernard details the experience of growing up black in the south with a family name inherited from a white man, surviving a random stabbing at a New Haven coffee shop while taking graduate studies at Yale, marrying a white man from the north and bringing him home to her family, adopting two babies from Ethiopia, and living and teaching in a primarily white New England college town. Each of these essays goes beyond a narrative of black innocence and white guilt and sets out to discover a new way of telling the truth as the author has lived it.

BLACK IS THE BODY offers students an exquisitely written memoir that looks at race in a fearless, penetrating, honest way. “Blackness is an art, not a science. It is a paradox: intangible and visceral; a situation and a story.”

“Bernard’s honesty and vulnerability reveal a strong voice with no sugarcoating, sharing her struggle, ambivalence, hopes, and fears as an individual within a web of relationships, black and white.”
—LIBRARY JOURNAL (STARRED REVIEW)

“These [twelve] formidable, destined-to-be-studied essays mark the emergence of an extraordinary voice on race in America.”
—O, THE OPRAH MAGAZINE

“Black Is the Body brings lucidity, honesty, and insight to the topics of race and interracial relationships.”
—PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE

EMILY BERNARD was born and grew up in Nashville, TN, and received her PhD in American studies from Yale University. She has been the recipient of grants from the Ford Foundation, the NEH, and a W. E. B. Du Bois Resident Fellowship at Harvard University. Her essays have been published in journals and anthologies, among them The American Scholar and Best African American Essays. She is the Julian Lindsay Green and Gold Professor of English at the University of Vermont.

EAT LIKE A FISH
My Adventures as a Fisherman Turned Restorative Ocean Farmer
By Bren Smith

Easy to grow, sustainable, and a solution to climate change, ocean vegetables are plentiful, nutritious, and delicious. In EAT LIKE A FISH, Bren Smith—former commercial fisherman turned restorative ocean farmer—shares a bold new vision for the future of food. He encourages students to reimagine their ideas about ocean eating, while taking them on a journey from his childhood in Newfoundland to his early years on the high seas, from pioneering new forms of ocean farming to surfing the frontiers of the food movement.

Written with the humor and swagger of a fisherman telling a late-night tale, this is a monumental work of memoir-turned-food policy that will change the way students think about what they eat, and inspire them to find creative ways to make their impact on the world.

BREN SMITH is a former commercial fisherman turned ocean farmer who pioneered the development of restorative 3D ocean farming. Born and raised in Newfoundland, he left high school at the age of 14 to work on fishing boats from the Grand Banks to the Bering Sea. His writing has appeared in The New York Times, National Geographic, and elsewhere; his ocean farm won the Buckminster Fuller Challenge for ecological design, and, in 2017, was named one of Time magazine’s Best Inventions. He is the owner of Thimble Island Ocean Farm, and Executive Director of the non-profit Greenwave.

“Part memoir, part treatise on the life of a professional fisherman, part manual for the future of eating worldwide, this unique book cannot help but make readers think long and hard about the fate of the earth as it faces the challenges of global warming.” —BOOKLIST

“A perfect balance between personal storytelling and blueprint for a new way to harvest our seas.” —FORBES

“[Written] with a wry joy that left me (more than usually) hopeful about our future.” —BILL McKIBBEN, AUTHOR OF EAARTH
By the time he was twenty-seven years old, Kwame Onwuachi had opened—and closed—one of the most talked about restaurants in America. He had launched his own catering company with twenty thousand dollars that he made from selling candy on the subway, yet he’d been told he would never make it on television because his cooking wasn’t “Southern” enough. In this inspiring memoir about the intersection of race, fame, and food, he shares the remarkable story of his culinary coming-of-age.

From the Bronx to Nigeria to fine dining restaurants in Manhattan, Onwuachi’s love of food and cooking remained a constant in his life. But as a young chef, he was forced to grapple with just how unwelcoming the world of fine dining can be for people of color. NOTES FROM A YOUNG BLACK CHEF, is the inspiring tale of one man’s pursuit of his passions, despite the odds.

“Onwuachi’s memoir should be required reading, not just for future chefs, but for anyone who wants a glimpse into one man’s tale of what it’s like to be young, black and ambitious in America.”
—THE WASHINGTON POST

“Chef Kwame Onwuachi is a living example of bouncing back when hit with challenges and obstacles. . . . Inspiring.”
—EDOUARDO JORDAN, CHEF/OWNER OF SALARE, JUNEBABY, AND LUCINDA GRAIN BAR

KWAME ONWUACHI is the James Beard Award-winning executive chef at Kith and Kin and owner of the Philly Wing Fry franchise in Washington, D.C. He was born on Long Island and raised in New York City, Nigeria, and Louisiana. Onwuachi was first exposed to cooking by his mother, in the family’s modest Bronx apartment. From toiling in the bowels of oil cleanup ships to working at some of the best restaurants in the world, he has seen and lived his fair share of diversity. Onwuachi trained at the Culinary Institute of America and has opened five restaurants before turning thirty. A former Top Chef contestant, he has been named one of Food & Wine’s Best New Chefs and a 30-Under-30 honoree by both Zagat and Forbes.
THE MONK OF MOKHA
By Dave Eggers

THE MONK OF MOKHA is a heart-pounding true story of a young man struggling to find a balance between his family heritage and his pursuit of the American dream.

Mokhtar Alkhanshali grew up in San Francisco, one of seven siblings brought up by Yemeni immigrants in a tiny apartment. At twenty-four, unable to pay for college, he works as a doorman until a chance encounter awakens his interest in coffee and its rich history in Yemen. He leaves San Francisco and travels deep into his ancestral homeland to tour terraced farms high in the country’s rugged mountains and meet beleagured but determined farmers. But when war engulfs the country and Saudi bombs rain down, Mokhtar has to find a way out of Yemen without sacrificing his dreams or abandoning his people.

DAVE EGGERS is the author of twelve books, including A Hologram for the King, finalist for the National Book Award; and What Is the What, finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award and winner of France’s Prix Médicis Etranger. He is the founder of McSweeney’s and the co-founder of 826 Valencia, a youth writing center that has inspired similar programs around the world, and of Scholar-Match, which connects donors with students to make college accessible. He is the winner of the Dayton Literary Peace Prize and is the co-founder of Voice of Witness, a book series that illuminates human rights crises through oral history.

“Exquisitely interesting. . . . This is about the human capacity to dream—here, there, everywhere.” —SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE

“A cracking tale of intrigue and bravery. . . . A gripping, triumphant adventure story.” —LOS ANGELES TIMES

“The Monk of Mokha is not merely about ‘coming to America,’ it is a thrilling chronicle of one man’s coming-and-going between two beloved homelands—a brilliant mirror on the global community we have become.” —MARIE ARANA, AUTHOR OF AMERICAN CHICA

CALL ME AMERICAN
By Abdi Nor Iftin

NOW IN PAPERBACK

Growing up in Somalia, Abdi Nor Iftin first fell in love with America from afar. As a child, he learned English by listening to American pop and watching action films starring Arnold Schwarzenegger—hoping for the day the Americans would come and defeat the warlords like the heroes in his favorite movies.

Sporting American clothes and dance moves, he became known around Mogadishu as Abdi American. But when the radical Islamist group al-Shabaab rose to power in 2006, it became dangerous to celebrate Western culture. Desperate to make a living, Abdi used his language skills to post secret dispatches, which found an audience of worldwide listeners on NPR and the BBC.

In an amazing stroke of luck, Abdi won entrance to the U.S. in the annual visa lottery, though his route to America did not come easily. In Abdi’s memoir CALL ME AMERICAN, his stories serve as a vivid reminder of why America still beckons to those looking to make a better life.

ABDI NOR IFTIN currently lives in Maine. He studies political science at the University of Southern Maine, and plays soccer every Saturday in a melting-pot league of Americans and immigrants from around the world.

“Absolutely remarkable. . . . An essential ur-immigrant story, one that is enlightening and immediate.” —BOOKLIST (STARRED REVIEW)

“Riveting. . . . [Iftin’s] narrative is both panoramic and particular, full of irreverent asides, and suffused with appreciation for the humanity of others.” —THE NEW YORKER

THE ART OF NOTICING
131 Ways to Spark Creativity, Find Inspiration, and Discover Joy in the Everyday
By Rob Walker
NEW

Welcome to the era of white noise. Our lives are in constant tether to phones, to email, and to social media. In this age of distraction, the ability to experience and be present is often lost: to think and to see and to listen.

Enter Rob Walker’s THE ART OF NOTICING. This gorgeously illustrated volume will spark students’ creativity—and most importantly, help them see the world anew. What Kondo did for your closet, Walker does for your brain: through a series of 131 simple and playful exercises. This small essential guide will awaken students’ senses and attune them to the things that matter most to them as they take new steps in their academic journeys.

“In the tradition of John Berger, Susan Sontag, and George Nelson, Rob Walker offers a guide not to looking but to seeing—and why the difference is crucial. . . . He makes the case that noticing what’s there is the first step in creating what’s new.”

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD
By Colson Whitehead

Cora is a young slave on a cotton plantation in Georgia. An outcast even among her fellow Africans, she is on the cusp of womanhood—where greater pain awaits. And so when Caesar, a slave who has recently arrived from Virginia, urges her to join him on the Underground Railroad, she seizes the opportunity and escapes with him. But the Underground Railroad is no mere metaphor: engineers and conductors operate a secret network of actual tracks and tunnels beneath the Southern soil. Cora embarks on a harrowing flight from one state to the next, encountering strange yet familiar iterations of her own world at each stop.

In THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD, Colson Whitehead brilliantly weaves in the saga of our nation, from the brutal abduction of Africans to the unfulfilled promises of the present day.

COLSON WHITEHEAD is the #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Underground Railroad, which in 2016 won the Pulitzer Prize in Fiction and the National Book Award. He is also a Pulitzer Prize finalist and a recipient of the MacArthur and Guggenheim Fellowships. He lives in New York City.

WASHINGTON BLACK
By Esi Edugyan
NOW IN PAPERBACK

George Washington Black, or “Wash,” an eleven-year-old field slave on a Barbados sugar plantation, is terrified to be chosen by his master’s brother as his manservant. To his surprise, the eccentric Christopher Wilde turns out to be a naturalist, explorer, inventor, and abolitionist. Soon Wash is initiated into a world where a flying machine can carry a man across the sky, where even a boy born in chains may embrace a life of dignity and meaning.

But when a man is killed and a bounty is placed on Wash’s head, Christopher and Wash must abandon everything. What follows is their flight along the eastern coast of America, and, finally, to a remote outpost in the Arctic.

What brings Christopher and Wash together will tear them apart, propelling Wash even further across the globe in search of his true self. Washington Black tells a story of self-invention and betrayal, and asks the question, what is true freedom?

SHORTLISTED FOR THE MAN BOOKER PRIZE
WINNER OF THE SCOTIABANK GILLER PRIZE

“Gripping. . . . Astonishing. . . . Washington Black’s presence in these pages is fierce and unsettling.” —THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW

“As harrowing a portrayal of slavery as Colson Whitehead’s The Underground Railroad, but also a globe-trotting, page-turning adventure story. . . . A historical epic.” —THE GUARDIAN

“At a time when blackness still invites unwarranted violence, young Wash’s hard lessons resonate.” —THE ECONOMIST

ESI EDUGYAN is author of the novels The Second Life of Samuel Tyne and Half-Blood Blues, which won the Scotiabank Giller Prize and was a finalist for the Man Booker Prize, the Governor General’s Literary Award, the Rogers Writers’ Trust Fiction Prize and the Orange Prize. THE NICKEL BOYS

By Colson Whitehead

NEW

Colson Whitehead brings American history to life in THE NICKEL BOYS, a novel based on the real story of a reform school in Florida that warped the lives of thousands of children.

Elwood is about to enroll in the local black college. But for a black boy in the Jim Crow South of the early 1960s, one innocent mistake is enough to destroy the future. Elwood is sentenced to a juvenile reformatory called the Nickel Academy, whose mission statement says it provides “physical, intellectual and moral training” so the delinquent boys in their charge can become “honorable and honest men.”

In reality, the Nickel Academy is a grotesque chamber of horrors controlled by corrupt officials and a sadistic staff. Elwood tries to hold onto Dr. King’s assertion: “Throw us in jail and we will still love you.” His friend Turner will do whatever it takes to survive, no matter the cost. The boys’ fates will be determined by what they endured at the Nickel Academy.

“America’s Storyteller. A book that will further cement his place in the pantheon of influential American writers.” —TIME MAGAZINE

“The Nickel Boys is in conversation with works by James Baldwin, Ralph Ellison, and especially Martin Luther King. . . . It shreds our easy confidence in the triumph of goodness and leaves in its place a hard and bitter truth about the ongoing American experiment.” —THE WASHINGTON POST

“[Examines] the process by which Americans undermine, distort, hide or “neatly erase” the stories he is driven to tell. . . . A writer like Whitehead . . . has rarely seemed more essential.” —NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW

NEW POWER
How Anyone Can Persuade, Mobilize, and Succeed in Our Chaotic, Connected Age

By Jeremy Heimans and Henry Timms

NOW IN PAPERBACK

Technology has changed our social power structure. In an increasingly connected world, everyone now has the power to enact change.

In this indispensable guide to navigating the twenty-first century, two visionary thinkers reveal how “new power” is reshaping politics, business, and life to be more open, participatory, and peer-driven. Students will compare “old” and “new” power structures, and leave with a better understanding of how things have changed in our participatory culture. By analyzing movements like #MeToo, platforms like AirBnB, and organizations like TED, NEW POWER teaches students how today’s world works, what the future may hold—and how to thrive in it.

JEREMY HEIMANS is the co-founder and CEO of Purpose, a corporation that specializes in building and supporting social movements around the world. He is a co-founder of the global campaigning organization Avaaz, and the LGBT rights platform All Out. He is a recipient of the Ford Foundation’s 75th Anniversary Visionary Award for his work as a movement pioneer. He has been named one of Fast Company’s Most Creative People in Business. HENRY TIMMS is president of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. Formerly president and CEO of the 92nd Street Y, the 144-year-old institution was named one of Fast Company’s “Most Innovative Companies” under his leadership. He is the co-founder of #GivingTuesday, a global philanthropic movement that has generated hundreds of millions of dollars for good causes. He is a Visiting Fellow at Stanford PACS Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society.

“A must-read, New Power is a gift to our movements. It’s not just about going viral—it’s about connecting millions of people to roll up our sleeves and create the changes we long for.”

—ALICIA GARZA, CO-FOUNDER OF BLACK LIVES MATTER

“A useful lens to use when thinking about how business has changed, how to spread ideas or start a movement, or create change.”

WINNERS TAKE ALL
The Elite Charade of Changing the World
By Anand Giridharadas
NOW IN PAPERBACK

WINNERS TAKE ALL offers an insider’s groundbreaking investigation of how the global elite’s efforts to “change the world” preserve the status quo and obscure their role in causing the problems they later seek to solve.

Former New York Times columnist Anand Giridharadas takes us into the inner sanctums of a new gilded age, where the rich and powerful fight for equality and justice any way they can—except ways that threaten the social order and their position atop it.

Giridharadas asks hard questions: Why, for example, should our gravest problems be solved by the unelected upper crust instead of the public institutions it erodes by lobbying and dodging taxes? Students will learn that in order to truly change the world, they must take on the grueling democratic work of building more robust, egalitarian institutions.

“An insightful and refreshing perspective on some of the most vexing issues this nation confronts. This is an important book from a gifted writer whose honest exploration of complex problems provides urgently needed clarity in an increasingly confusing era.” —BRYAN STEVENSON, AUTHOR OF JUST MERCY

“Giridharadas writes brilliantly on the parasitic philanthropy industry.” —THE ECONOMIST

“Provocative. . . . This damning portrait of contemporary American philanthropy is a must-read.” —PUBLISHERS WEEKLY (STARRED REVIEW)

ANAND GIRIDHARADAS is the author of Winners Take All, The True American, and India Calling. He is an editor-at-large for TIME and was a foreign correspondent and columnist for The New York Times from 2005 to 2016. He is an on-air political analyst for MSNBC, a visiting scholar at the Arthur L. Carter Journalism Institute at NYU, and a former McKinsey analyst. He has spoken on the main stage of TED. Anand’s writing has been honored by the Poynter Fellowship at Yale, Harvard University’s Outstanding Lifetime Achievement Award for Humanism in Culture, and the New York Public Library’s Helen Bernstein Award.

THE COMMON GOOD
By Robert B. Reich
NOW IN PAPERBACK

Powerful and urgent, THE COMMON GOOD is a heartfelt missive from one of our foremost political thinkers. Rooting his argument in common sense and everyday reality, Robert B. Reich demonstrates why a “common good” is the very essence of any society or nation.

Societies, he says, undergo virtuous cycles that reinforce the common good as well as vicious cycles that undermine it, one of which America has been experiencing for the past five decades. Reich explains why this process must be reversed for the health of our nation. He encourages students to weigh the moral obligations of citizenship and carefully consider how we relate to honor, shame, patriotism, truth, and the meaning of leadership.

ROBERT B. REICH is the Chancellor’s Professor of Public Policy at the Richard and Rhoda Goldman School of Public Policy at the University of California, Berkeley, and a senior fellow at the Blum Center for Developing Economies. He has served in three national administrations and has written over fifteen books. His articles have appeared in The New Yorker, The Atlantic, The New York Times, The Washington Post, and the Wall Street Journal. He is a co-creator of the award-winning 2013 film Inequality for All and the chair of the national governing board of Common Cause.

“Clear-voiced and accessible.” —PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

“Very timely. . . . Reich’s work is an important call for reform that should appeal to a wide audience disaffected with the status quo.”

—LIBRARY JOURNAL (STARRED REVIEW)

“Against the grain of much liberal thinking . . . Reich’s proposals would make a good starting point for a new progressive political project.” —THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW
OUR TOWNS
A 100,000-Mile Journey into the Heart of America
By James Fallows and Deborah Fallows

For five years, James and Deborah Fallows travelled across America in a single-engine prop airplane. Visiting dozens of towns, the America they saw is acutely conscious of its problems—from economic dislocation to the opioid scourge—but it is also crafting solutions, with a practical-minded determination at dramatic odds with the bitter paralysis of national politics.

At times of dysfunction on a national level, reform possibilities have often arisen from the local level. The Fallowses describe America in the middle of one of these creative waves. Their view of the country is as complex and contradictory as America itself, but it also reflects the energy, the generosity and compassion, the dreams, and the determination of many who are in the midst of making things better. OUR TOWNS is the story of their journey—and an account of a country busy remaking itself.

JAMES FALLOWS has been a national correspondent for The Atlantic for more than thirty-five years, reporting from China, Japan, South-east Asia, Europe, and across the United States. He is the author of eleven previous books. His work has also appeared in many other magazines and as public-radio commentaries since the 1980s. He has won a National Book Award and a National Magazine Award. He was chief speechwriter to President Jimmy Carter. DEBORAH FALLOWS is a linguist and writer who holds a PhD in theoretical linguistics. She is the author of two previous books. She has written for The Atlantic, National Geographic, Slate, The New York Times, and The Washington Monthly, and has worked at the Pew Research Center, Oxygen Media, and Georgetown University. She and her husband have two sons and five grandchildren.
MY BELOVED WORLD
By Sonia Sotomayor

The first Hispanic woman appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court, Sonia Sotomayor is an American icon. With a candor never undertaken by a sitting Justice, she recounts her life from a Bronx housing project to the federal bench, a journey that inspires and affirms the power of believing in oneself.

LAB GIRL
By Hope Jahren

Hope Jahren has spent her life studying trees, flowers, seeds, and soil. LAB GIRL is her revelatory treatise on plant life—but it is also a celebration of the lifelong curiosity that drives every scientist. In these pages, Hope takes students back to her Minnesota childhood, where she spent hours in unfettered play in her father’s college laboratory. She shares how she found a sanctuary in science, learning to perform lab work “with both the heart and the hands.” And she extends the mantle of scientist to each one of her readers, inviting students to join her in observing and protecting our environment.

ENDURANCE
My Year in Space, A Lifetime of Discovery
By Scott Kelly

The veteran of four space flights and the American record holder for consecutive days spent in space, Scott Kelly has experienced things very few have. But growing up, Kelly wasn’t on the fast-track to space exploration. A poor student unsure of what direction to take, Kelly’s life turned around upon reading Tom Wolfe’s The Right Stuff during his freshman year of college. In ENDURANCE, Kelly takes students from his rough-and-tumble New Jersey childhood through the youthful inspiration that sparked his astounding career. Here, in his personal story, students can see the triumph of imagination, the strength of the human will, and the boundless wonder of the galaxy.

“It is easy to imagine future generations . . . harnessing the lessons and truths within the pages of Endurance.”

A BACKPACK, A BEAR, AND EIGHT CRATES OF VODKA
By Lev Golinkin

Lev Golinkin’s memoir is the vivid, darkly comic, poignant story of a young boy in the final decade of the Soviet Union. In the twilight of the Cold War (the late 1980s), nine-year old Golinkin and his family cross the Soviet border with only ten suitcases, $600, and the vague promise of help awaiting in Vienna. Years later, Lev, now an American adult, sets out to retrace his family’s long trek, locate the strangers who fought for his freedom, and in the process, gain a future by understanding his past.

“A wonderful writer, witty and economical, [Golinkin] generally applies a light touch to emotionally heavy material.”

PERSEPOLIS
The Story of a Childhood
By Marjane Satrapi

PERSEPOLIS tells the story of Marjane Satrapi’s childhood growing up in Iran during the Islamic Revolution. In powerful black-and-white comic strip images, Satrapi shares her experience coming of age within a large and loving family in Tehran, struggling with the contradictions between private life and public life in a country plagued by political upheaval, spending her high school years in Vienna far from her family, and finally deciding to exile herself from her beloved homeland. It is the chronicle of a girlhood and adolescence at once outrageous and familiar.

THE GRACE OF SILENCE
A Family Memoir
By Michele Norris

While exploring the hidden conversation on race unfolding throughout America in the wake of President Obama’s election, Michele Norris discovered that there were painful secrets within her own family that had been willfully withheld. These revelations—from her father’s shooting by a Birmingham police officer to her maternal grandmother’s job as an itinerant Aunt Jemima in the Midwest—inspired a bracing journey into her family’s past. The result is a rich and extraordinary family memoir—filled with stories that elegantly explore the power of silence and secrets—that boldly examines racial legacy and what it means to be an American.

“An insightful, elegant rendering of how the history of an American family illuminates the history of our country.” —TONI MORRISON

“Gracefully written and carefully researched . . . a testimony to racism’s power and reach.”

WILD
From Lost to Found on the Pacific Crest Trail
By Cheryl Strayed

At twenty-two, Cheryl Strayed thought she had lost everything. In the wake of her mother’s death, her family scattered and her own marriage was soon destroyed. Four years later, with nothing more to lose, she made the most impulsive decision of her life: with no experience or training, driven only by blind will, she would hike more than a thousand miles of the Pacific Crest Trail from the Mojave Desert to Washington State—and she would do it alone. WILD powerfully captures the terrors and pleasures of one young woman forging ahead against all odds on a journey that maddened, strengthened, and ultimately healed her.

“Incisive and telling... Succinct and poetic. ... [Strayed has] an inborn talent for articulating angst and the gratefulness that comes when we overcome it.” —THE WASHINGTON POST

AN ODYSSEY
A Father, A Son, and an Epic
By Daniel Mendelsohn

When eighty-one-year-old Jay Mendelsohn decides to enroll in the undergraduate Odyssey seminar his son teaches at Bard College, the two find themselves on an adventure as profoundly emotional as it is intellectual. For Jay, a retired research scientist who sees the world through a mathematician’s unforgiving eyes, this return to the classroom is his “one last chance” to learn the great literature he’d neglected in his youth—and, even more, a final opportunity to more fully understand his son, a writer and classicist. Through the months that the two men explore Homer’s great work together, it becomes clear that Daniel has much to learn, too: Jay’s responses to both the text and the travels gradually uncover long-buried secrets that allow the son to understand his difficult father at last.

HOMEGOING
By Yaa Gyasi

Ghana, eighteenth century: two half sisters are born into different villages, each unaware of the other. One will marry an Englishman and lead a life of comfort in the palatial rooms of the Cape Coast Castle. The other will be captured in a raid on her village, imprisoned in the very same castle, and sold into slavery. HOMEGOING follows the parallel paths of these two sisters and their descendants through eight generations: from the Gold Coast to the plantations of Mississippi, from the American Civil War to Jazz Age Harlem.

AMERICANAH
By Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie

Ifemelu and Obinze are young and in love when they depart military-ruled Nigeria for the West. Ifemelu heads for America, where despite her academic success, she is forced to grapple with what it means to be black for the first time. Obinze had hoped to join her, but with post-9/11 America closed to him, he instead plunges into a dangerous, undocumented life in London. Fifteen years later, they reunite in a newly democratic Nigeria, and reignite their passion—for each other and for their homeland.

WHITE TEARS
By Hari Kunzru

WHITE TEARS is a literary thriller and a meditation on art—who owns it, who can consume it, and who profits from it. Friends Seth and Carter share an obsession with music—especially the blues. When they realize that Seth accidentally recorded an unknown blues singer in a park, the two twentysomethings decide to share the file online, attributing it to a made-up 1920s musician named Charlie Shaw. But when a music collector tells them that their recording is genuine—that there really was a singer named Charlie Shaw—the two find themselves in over their heads, delving deeper into the history of the American music industry.

THE CIRCLE
By Dave Eggers

When Mae Holland is hired to work for the Circle, the world’s most powerful internet company, she feels she’s been given the opportunity of a lifetime—even as life beyond the campus grows distant, even as a strange encounter with a colleague leaves her shaken, even as her role at the Circle becomes increasingly public. What begins as the captivating story of one woman’s ambition and idealism soon turns into a wild, terrifying look at a young tech employee’s descent into a digital apocalypse that bears close resemblance to our own present—a prescient and far-seeing warning, raising questions about memory, history, privacy, democracy, and the limits of human knowledge.

BORDER CHILD
By Michel Stone

Young lovers Héctor and Lilia dream of a brighter future in the United States. Héctor leaves Mexico first to secure work and housing, but when Lilia, desperate to be with Héctor, impetuously crosses the border with their infant daughter, Alejandra, mother and child are separated, and Alejandra disappears. Four years later, back in their sleepy hometown of Oaxaca, the couple lead a semblance of normal life, with a toddler son and another baby on the way. Then they receive an unexpected tip that might lead them to their long-lost daughter. As their marriage is strained to the breaking point by the consequences of their hopes for a better life, Michel Stone drops readers into the whirlwind of the contemporary immigrant experience.

THE MOOR’S ACCOUNT
By Laila Lalami

In 1527, Panfilo de Narvaez sailed from Spain with a crew of five hundred men, intending to claim for the Spanish crown what is now the Gulf Coast of the United States. But from the moment the expedition reached Florida, it met with ceaseless bad luck—storms, disease, starvation, hostile natives. Within a year there were only four survivors, including the young explorer Andres Dorantes and his slave, Estebanico. The four men escaped enslavement by Native Americans, and wandered through what is now Florida, Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona. THE MOOR’S ACCOUNT brilliantly and deftly captures Estebanico’s voice and vision, giving us an alternate narrative for his famed expedition.

THE PLOT AGAINST AMERICA
By Philip Roth

In an extraordinary feat of narrative invention, Philip Roth imagines an alternate history where Franklin D. Roosevelt loses the 1940 presidential election to heroic aviator and rabid isolationist Charles A. Lindbergh. Shortly thereafter, Lindbergh negotiates a cordial “understanding” with Adolf Hitler, while the new government embarks on a program of folksy anti-Semitism. For one boy growing up in Newark, Lindbergh’s election is the first in a series of ruptures that threaten to destroy his small, safe corner of America.

THE CURIOUS INCIDENT OF THE DOG IN THE NIGHT-TIME
By Mark Haddon

A modern classic—both poignant and funny—THE CURIOUS INCIDENT OF THE DOG IN THE NIGHT-TIME tells the story of a boy with autism who sets out to solve the murder of a neighbor’s dog and discovers unexpected truths about himself and the world. Christopher knows all the countries of the world and their capitals and every prime number up to 7,057. He relates well to animals but has no understanding of human emotions. He cannot stand to be touched. And he detests the color yellow. This improbable story of Christopher’s quest to investigate the suspicious death of a neighborhood dog makes for a captivating, unusual, and widely heralded novel that has become a beloved classic of our time.

BOOK OF HOURS

By Kevin Young

A decade after the sudden and tragic loss of his father, students witness the unfolding of the poet’s grief. “In the night I brush / my teeth with a razor,” he tells us, in one of the collection’s piercing two-line poems. Young captures the strange silence of bereavement: “Not the storm / but the calm / that slays me.” But the poet acknowledges, even celebrates, life’s passages, his loss transformed and tempered in a sequence describing the birth of his son: in “Crowning,” he delivers what is surely one of the most powerful birth poems written by a man, describing “her face / full of fire, then groaning your face / out like a flower, blood-bloom, / crocused into air.” Ending this book of birth and grief, the gorgeous title sequence brings acceptance, asking “What good / are wishes if they aren’t / used up?” while understanding “How to listen / to what’s gone.”

“A more impressively musical exploration of grief and endurance. . . . Young wrestles with loss and joy with enviable beauty and subtlety.”

WHEN THE EMPEROR WAS DIVINE
By Julie Otsuka

On a sunny day in Berkeley, California, in 1942, a woman sees a sign in a post office window, returns to her home, and matter-of-factly begins to pack her family’s possessions. Like thousands of other Japanese Americans they have been reclassified as enemy aliens and are about to be uprooted from their home and sent to an internment camp in the Utah desert. WHEN THE EMPEROR WAS DIVINE tells their story from five flawlessly realized points of view and conveys the exact emotional texture of their experience: the thin-walled barracks and barbed-wire fences, the omnipresent fear and loneliness, the unheralded feats of heroism.

“[Otsuka’s] incantatory, unsentimental prose is the book’s greatest strength.”
—THE NEW YORKER

“One of the most effective, memorable books to deal with the internment crisis.”

BROTHER, I’M DYING
By Edwidge Danticat

When Edwidge Danticat’s parents left Haiti for America they placed her in her uncle’s care. Eight year’s later, she was both elated and saddened when, at twelve, she joined her parents and youngest brothers in New York City. As Edwidge made a life in a new country, she and her family continued to fear for the safety of those still in Haiti as the political situation deteriorated. In 2004, they entered into a terrifying tale of good people caught up in events beyond their control. BROTHER, I’M DYING is an astonishing true-life epic, told on an intimate scale by one of our finest writers.

WE SHOULD ALL BE FEMINISTS
By Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie

BASED ON THE ACCLAIMED TEDx TALK OF THE SAME NAME

In this personal, eloquent essay, Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie offers readers a unique definition of feminism for the twenty-first century, one rooted in inclusion and awareness. Drawing extensively on her own experiences and her deep understanding of the often masked realities of sexual politics, here is one remarkable author’s exploration of what it means to be a woman now—and an of-the-moment rallying cry for why we should all be feminists.

MISSOULA
Rape and the Justice System in a College Town
By Jon Krakauer

Missoula, Montana, is a typical college town, home to a highly regarded state university whose beloved football team inspires a passionately loyal fan base. Between January 2008 and May 2012, hundreds of students reported sexual assaults to the local police. Few of the cases were properly handled by either the university or local authorities. In this, Missoula is also typical. In these pages, acclaimed journalist Jon Krakauer investigates a spate of campus rapes that occurred in Missoula over a four-year period. These stories cut through abstract ideological debate about acquaintance rape to demonstrate that it does not happen because women are sending mixed signals or seeking attention. They are victims of a terrible crime, deserving of fairness from our justice system.

“Compelling. . . . Meticulous. . . . Krakauer is a writer committed above all else to asking difficult questions.” —LOS ANGELES TIMES

“Important, difficult and timely.” —USA TODAY
DEAD MAN WALKING
The Eyewitness Account of the Death Penalty That Sparked a National Debate
By Sister Helen Prejean

In 1982, Sister Helen Prejean became the spiritual advisor to Patrick Sonnier, the convicted killer of two teenagers who was sentenced to die in the electric chair of Louisiana’s Angola State Prison. In the months before Sonnier’s death, the Roman Catholic nun came to know a man who was as terrified as he had once been terrifying. She also came to know the families of the victims and the men whose job it was to execute—men who often harbored doubts about the rightness of what they were doing. Out of that dreadful intimacy comes a profoundly moving spiritual journey through our system of capital punishment.

THE LARAMIE PROJECT / THE LARAMIE PROJECT: TEN YEARS LATER
By Moisés Kaufman, Tectonic Theater Project, Leigh Fondakowski, Greg Pierotti and Andy Paris

On October 7, 1998, a young gay man was discovered bound to a fence outside Laramie, Wyoming, savagely beaten and left to die. Moisés Kaufman and members of the Tectonic Theater Project went to Laramie and conducted more than 200 interviews with its citizens. From the transcripts, THE LARAMIE PROJECT was created: an extraordinary chronicle of life in the town after the murder. In THE LARAMIE PROJECT: TEN YEARS LATER, the troupe revisits the town a decade after the tragedy. The two plays together comprise an epic and deeply moving theatrical cycle that explores the life of an American town over the course a decade.

“Few playwrights have cut to the heart of tragedy so unerringly.”

POLICING THE BLACK MAN
Arrest, Prosecution, and Imprisonment
Edited by Angela J. Davis

POLICING THE BLACK MAN is an enlightening must-read for the critical issues of race and justice in America. Featuring essays by some of the nation’s most influential and respected criminal justice experts and legal scholars, including Bryan Stevenson, Marc Mauer, Bruce Western, and Jeremy Travis, this anthology covers a wide range of topics: from an explication of the historical roots of racism to an examination of modern-day police killings of unarmed black men. The contributors discuss and explain racial profiling, the role of implicit bias, the racial impact of police and prosecutorial decisions, the disproportionate imprisonment of black men, the collateral consequences of mass incarceration, and the Supreme Court’s failure to provide meaningful remedies for the injustices in the criminal justice system.

“This powerful book demands our fierce attention.” —TONI MORRISON

“I AM NOT YOUR NEGRO
A Companion Edition to the Documentary Film
Directed by Raoul Peck
By James Baldwin

In his final years, James Baldwin had envisioned a book about his three assassinated friends: Medgar Evers, Malcolm X, and Martin Luther King. His deeply personal notes for the project have never been published before. To compose his stunning documentary film I Am Not Your Negro, acclaimed filmmaker Raoul Peck mined James Baldwin’s published and unpublished oeuvre, selecting passages from his books, essays, letters, notes, and interviews that are every bit as incisive and pertinent now as they have ever been. Peck’s film uses Baldwin’s notes to jump through time, juxtaposing Baldwin’s private words with his public statements, in a blazing examination of the tragic history of race in America.

LIFE 3.0
Being Human in the Age of Artificial Intelligence
By Max Tegmark

How can we grow our prosperity through automation without taking away jobs? What career advice should we give today’s students? How will AI affect crime, war, justice, society and our very sense of being human? The rise of AI has the potential to transform our future more than any other technology—and there’s nobody better qualified or situated to explore that future than Max Tegmark, an MIT professor who’s helped mainstream research on how to keep AI beneficial. LIFE 3.0 asks students to consider the kind of future they want to work towards, empowering them to join what may be the most important conversation of our time.

“Original, accessible, and provocative.”
—SCIENCE

“Anyone who wants to discuss how artificial intelligence is shaping the world should read this book.”
—BILL GATES, “10 FAVORITE BOOKS ABOUT TECHNOLOGY”

HOW TO FLY A HORSE
The Secret History of Creation, Invention, and Discovery
By Kevin Ashton

To create is human. Technology pioneer Kevin Ashton has experienced firsthand the all-consuming challenge of creating something new. Now, in a tour-de-force narrative twenty years in the making, Ashton demystifies the sacred act, leading students on a journey through humanity’s greatest creations to uncover the surprising truth behind who creates and how they do it. From the crystallographer’s laboratory where the secrets of DNA were first revealed, to the Ohio bicycle shop where the Wright brothers set out to “fly a horse,” Ashton showcases the seemingly unremarkable individuals, gradual steps, and multiple failures that lead to our most astounding breakthroughs.

“Takes on creation’s most pernicious clichés. . . . Being a genius is hard work. But that spark is in all of us.” —THE WASHINGTON POST

NINE ESSENTIAL THINGS I’VE LEARNED ABOUT LIFE

By Harold S. Kushner

In this compassionate and deeply personal work, Rabbi Harold S. Kushner distills his experiences as a twenty-first-century rabbi into nine essential takeaways. Offering readers a lifetime’s worth of spiritual food for thought, pragmatic advice, and strength for trying times, he gives fresh, vital insight into belief, conscience, mercy, and more. Grounded in Kushner’s brilliant readings of scripture, history, and popular culture, NINE ESSENTIAL THINGS I’VE LEARNED ABOUT LIFE is practical, illuminating, and compulsory advice for living a good life.

“This is a book that will stimulate your mind and encourage you to examine what are the lasting lessons in your life.” —THE JEWISH BOOK COUNCIL

“A lifetime of wisdom from someone who has studied, suffered, celebrated, and through it all, taught an entire generation.” —RABBI DAVID WOLPE, AUTHOR OF WHY FAITH MATTERS

BIRD BY BIRD

Some Instructions on Writing and Life

By Anne Lamott

25TH ANNIVERSARY EDITION

“Thirty years ago my older brother, who was ten years old at the time, was trying to get a report on birds written that he’d had three months to write. [It] was due the next day. We were out at our family cabin in Bolinas, and he was at the kitchen table close to tears, surrounded by binder paper and pencils and unopened books on birds, immobilized by the hugeness of the task ahead. Then my father sat down beside him, put his arm around my brother’s shoulder, and said: ‘Bird by bird, buddy. Just take it bird by bird.’”

With this basic instruction always in mind, BIRD BY BIRD offers students a step-by-step guide on how to write and on how to manage the writer’s life.

“Superb writing advice... hilarious, helpful.”

BOOKS FOR LIVING

Some Thoughts on Reading, Reflecting, and Embracing Life

By Will Schwalbe

For Will Schwalbe, reading is a way to entertain himself but also to make sense of the world. In this delightful celebration of reading, Schwalbe invites students along on his quest for books that speak to the specific challenges of living in our modern world, with all its noise and distractions. In each chapter, he discusses a particular book—what brought him to it, the people in his life he associates with it, and how it became a part of his understanding of himself in the world. These books span centuries and genres (from classic works of adult and children’s literature to contemporary thrillers and even cookbooks), and each one relates to the questions and concerns we all share.

“Schwalbe’s enthusiasm for what he covers is contagious.” —SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE

“ Inspiring and charming. . . . Books, to Schwalbe, are our last great hope to keep us from spiraling into the abyss.”

THE THEATER OF WAR

What Ancient Greek Tragedies Can Teach Us Today

By Bryan Doerries

How do we make sense of the horror of war? How do we best help the veterans who have risked their lives for the country, and in doing so faced terrible suffering? How do we make and sustain connections with the people in our society most in need? In this original, personal, and intensely felt study, Bryan Doerries suggests that the answers to these questions lie in the learning and performance of ancient Greek drama. This is something he doesn’t just believe, but has been practicing for years, producing theater for current and returned servicemen and women, as well as at-risk people in society. THE THEATER OF WAR offers students a contemporary take on classic works of art that cuts no corners and emotionally engages the reader without ever becoming sentimental.

“Important and illuminating. . . . This is an admirable book about an admirable project.”

THE PLANT MESSIAH
Adventures in Search of the World’s Rarest Species
By Carlos Magdalena

Carlos Magdalena is a man on a mission to save the world’s most endangered plants. He has travelled to the remotest parts of the globe in search of exotic species, protecting plants from man-made ecological destruction and thieves hunting for wealthy collectors. Here, Magdalena takes students from the Amazon to the jungles of Mauritius to deep within the Australian Outback in search of the rare and the vulnerable. Back in the lab, they watch as he develops groundbreaking, left-field techniques for rescuing species from extinction, encouraging them to propagate and thrive once again. Passionate and absorbing, THE PLANT MESSIAH is a tribute to the diversity of life on our planet and to the importance of preserving it.

“Carlos is an inspiration to me. He’s the perfect spokesperson for the plants of the world.”

THE INVENTION OF NATURE
Alexander von Humboldt’s New World
By Andrea Wulf

Alexander von Humboldt (1769–1859) was an in-trepid explorer and the most famous scientist of his age. His restless life was packed with adventure and discovery, whether he was climbing the highest volcanoes in the world or translating his research into bestselling publications that changed science and thinking. In THE INVENTION OF NATURE, Andrea Wulf introduces students to the man and his achievements: his daring expeditions and investigation of wild environments around the world. She also discusses his prediction of human-induced climate change, his remarkable ability to fashion poetic narrative out of scientific observation, and his influence on iconic figures such as Simón Bolívar, Thomas Jefferson, and Charles Darwin.

“[An] urgent argument for Humboldt’s relevance. It is impossible to read The Invention of Nature without contracting Humboldt fever.” —NEW SCIENTIST

IF OUR BODIES COULD TALK
Operating and Maintaining a Human Body
By James Hamblin

How much sleep do I actually need? Can I “boost” my immune system? Why do stomachs rumble? And what, exactly, is an itch? In this entertaining and illuminating guide to the human body, James Hamblin explores those health questions you’ve a ways wondered about over the years—and a few you might never have thought to ask. Hamblin draws from cutting-edge research as well as hundreds of interviews with distinguished scientists and medical practitioners, cutting through the myths to present a clear and comprehensive view of how the body works. Written with care, humor, and compassion, IF OUR BODIES COULD TALK offers students a greater understanding of our physical selves as an essential step toward worrying less and living better.

“If you want to understand the strange workings of the human body, and the future of medicine, you must read this illuminating, engaging book.”—SIDDHARTHA MUKHERJEE, AUTHOR OF THE GENE

ELASTIC
Unlocking Your Brain’s Ability to Embrace Change
By Leonard Mlodinow

Out of the exploratory instincts that allowed our ancestors to prosper hundreds of thousands of years ago, humans developed qualities that have enabled innovators from Mary Shelley to Miles Davis, from the inventor of jumbo-size popcorn to the creators of Pokémon GO, to effect paradigm shifts in our culture and society. It isn’t top-down, computer-like thinking that leads to the truly novel but rather bottom-up thinking, which arises when our cognitive filters are relaxed and seemingly crazy ideas are able to percolate into our conscious minds. Drawing from cutting-edge research, ELASTIC gives students an illuminating and entertaining investigation into how we navigate a rapidly changing world.

“Wise and persuasive. . . . Using a deft mix of science and storytelling, [Mlodinow] shows the limits of linear thinking and the promise of ‘bottom up’ thinking that embraces ambiguity, asks the shrewd questions, and pursues novel answers to complex problems.”—DANIEL H. PINK, AUTHOR OF WHEN

GLOBAL WEIRDNESS
Severe Storms, Deadly Heat Waves, Relentless Drought, Rising Seas, and the Weather of the Future
By Climate Central

Is climate ever “normal”? What risks does climate change pose for human health? What natural forces have caused climate change in the past? In fifty easy-to-read entries, GLOBAL WEIRDNESS answers these questions and more. It summarizes everything we know about the science of climate change, explains what is likely to happen to the climate in the future, and lays out, in practical terms, what we can do to avoid further shifts—illustrated throughout with clarifying graphics.

THE WIZARD AND THE PROPHET
Two Remarkable Scientists and Their Dueling Visions to Shape Tomorrow’s World
By Charles C. Mann

In forty years, Earth’s population will reach ten billion. Can our world support that? What kind of world will it be? Those answering these questions generally fall into two deeply divided groups—Wizards and Prophets. The Prophets follow William Vogt, a founding environmentalist who believed that in using more than our planet has to give, our prosperity will lead us to ruin. The Wizards are the heirs of Norman Borlaug, whose research, in effect, wrangled the world in service to our species to produce modern high-yield crops that then saved millions from starvation. THE WIZARD AND THE PROPHET delves into these diverging viewpoints to assess the four great challenges humanity faces—food, water, energy, climate change—grounding each in historical context and weighing the options for the future.

“Tackles the thorny problem of humankind’s future. . . . A sweeping, provocative work of journalism, history, science and philosophy.”

APOCALYPTIC PLANET
Field Guide to the Future of the Earth
By Craig Childs

Ours is not a stable planet. It is prone to sudden, violent natural disasters and extremes of climate. In this exhilarating exploration of our globe, Craig Childs goes to where the apocalypse can be seen now. From the driest deserts of Chile, through the genetic wasteland of central Iowa, to the site of the drowned land bridge of the Bering Sea, he uncovers cataclysms that tell us what could be next: forthcoming ice ages, super volcanoes, and the conclusion of planetary life cycles. APOCALYPTIC PLANET delivers a sensual feast in his descriptions of the natural world, and undeniable science that reveals both the earth’s strengths and frailties. Bearing witness to the planet’s sweeping and perilous changes, he shows how we can alter the future, and how the world will live on, though humans may not survive to see it.

“A fascinating travelog of an excitable, seething and perilous planet where catastrophes are frequent.” —SCIENCE NEWS

THE BIG ONES
How Natural Disasters Have Shaped Us (and What We Can Do About Them)
By Dr. Lucy Jones

Natural hazards are inevitable; human catastrophes are not. Many of these hazards stem from the same forces that give our planet life: earthquakes give us natural springs; volcanoes produce fertile soil. It is only when these forces exceed our ability to withstand them that they become disasters. With population in hazardous regions growing and temperatures around the world rising, the impacts of natural disasters are greater than ever before. THE BIG ONES is a call to action. Dr. Lucy Jones offers students a look at the world’s greatest natural disasters of the past, preparing them to face down the Big Ones in the future.

AMERICAN DIALOGUE
The Founders and Us
By Joseph J. Ellis
NOW IN PAPERBACK

In AMERICAN DIALOGUE Joseph J. Ellis focuses the conversation on the often-asked question “What would the Founding Fathers think?” He examines four of our most seminal historical figures through the prism of particular topics, using the perspective of the present to shed light on their views and, in turn, to make clear how their now centuries-old ideas illuminate the disturbing impasse of today’s political conflicts. Through these juxtapositions, Ellis illuminates the obstacles and pitfalls paralyzing contemporary discussions of these fundamentally important issues.

“Vivid . . . Ellis writes with insight and acuity . . . he draws connections between our history and our present reality with an authority that few other authors can muster.”

KILLERS OF THE FLOWER MOON
The Osage Murders and the Birth of the FBI
By David Grann

After oil was discovered beneath their land in the 1920s, the richest people per capita in the world were members of the Osage Nation in Oklahoma. Then, one by one, the Osage began to be killed off. As the death toll rose, the newly created FBI took up the case, and the young director, J. Edgar Hoover, turned to a former Texas Ranger named Tom White to try to unravel the mystery. White put together an undercover team, including a Native American agent who infiltrated the region, and together with the Osage began to expose one of the most chilling conspiracies in American history.

THE WARMTH OF OTHER SUNS
The Epic Story of America’s Great Migration
By Isabel Wilkerson

In THE WARMTH OF OTHER SUNS, Pulitzer Prize–winning author Isabel Wilkerson chronicles one of the great untold stories of American history: the decades-long migration of black citizens who fled the South for northern and western cities, in search of a better life. From 1915 to 1970, this exodus of almost six million people changed the face of America. Wilkerson compares this epic migration to the migrations of other peoples in history. She interviewed more than a thousand people, and gained access to new data and official records, to write this definitive and vividly dramatic account of how these American journeys unfolded.

WINNER OF THE NATIONAL BOOK CRITICS CIRCLE AWARD

“[A] deeply affecting, finely crafted and heroic book. . . . This is narrative nonfiction, lyrical and tragic and fatalist.” —THE NEW YORKER

AT THE DARK END OF THE STREET
Black Women, Rape, and Resistance—A New History of the Civil Rights Movement from Rosa Parks to the Rise of Black Power
By Danielle L. McGuire

In this groundbreaking and important book, Danielle McGuire writes about the rape in 1944 of a twenty-four-year-old mother and sharecropper, Recy Taylor, who strolled toward home after an evening of singing and praying at the Rock Hill Holiness Church in Abbeville, Alabama. Seven white men, armed with knives and shotguns, ordered the young woman into their green Chevrolet, raped her, and left her for dead. The president of the local NAACP branch office sent his best investigator and organizer—Rosa Parks—to Abbeville. In taking on this case, Parks launched a movement that exposed a ritualized history of sexual assault against black women and added fire to the growing call for change.

“A story of courage. . . . At the Dark End of the Street is an important step to finally facing the terrible legacies of race and gender in this country.” —THE WASHINGTON POST
