Beautiful Country
A Memoir of an Undocumented Childhood
Qian Julie Wang

Here is Qian, a Wongo memoir about growing up as an undocumented child. This is an hereafter American story about family, facing under the weight of invisibility, and the memory of the orphan who never stops seeking the light... Beautiful Country rings with power and authenticity. Wang's searing exploration reveals how she and her family were forced to navigate the yawning cracks in the American Dream. An eloquent, thoughtful, and touching memoir.—Joan Reck, author of Riot in Translation

Bridge to the Sun
The Secret Life of the Japanese Americans
Who Were Wounded in the Pacific in World War II
Bruce Henderson

Henderson reveals the harrowing untold story of the Nisei and their impact on the battle of the Pacific through declassified World War II records. An exhaustive research and rarely told story, Bridge to the Sun is a significant addition to the rich narrative of Japanese-American history.

American Studies

RECOMMENDED TITLES FOR COURSE ADOPTION FALL 2022

Asian American Studies

ON CONSCIENCE AND CONSEQUENCE

The Loneliest Americans
Joy Olupitan

The Loneliest Americans is a piercing look at family history and original migration, unflinching and heartfelt, a book for our times. In this powerful and provocative memoir, Joy Olupitan takes the reader on a journey through time and place, tracing her family’s journey from Nigeria to Minnesota to the United States. The result is a powerful exploration of what it means to be an American, and the cost of belonging.

Minor Feelings
Cathy Park Hong

Minor Feelings offers a poignant and provocative exploration of race and identity. Hong’s memoir is a vivid and powerful account of growing up Korean in America, and the daily challenges of navigating a world that sees her as one thing and her as another. Hong’s writing is both raw and honest, and her story is a powerful reminder of the importance of identity and the challenges of being an immigrant in a country that doesn’t always see you as you see yourself.

Conception
Conquest, Colonization, and an Immigrant Family’s Fate
Albert Samaha

In the late 1950s, when his mother had migrated to the United States, Albert Samaha began to question whether his decision to abandon the Philippines for the United States was the right one. In this bold and powerful memoir, Samaha explores his family’s history, including their role in the war against Japanese occupation, and the impact of those events on their lives. Samaha’s story is a powerful testament to the power of family and the importance of understanding our own histories.

RECENTLY PUBLISHED

CROWN | PAPERBACK | 288 PAGES | 978-0-525-57623-5 | $18.00

ONE WORLD | PAPERBACK | 224 PAGES | 978-1-9848-2038-9 | $18.00

BEACON PRESS | HARDCOVER | 240 PAGES | 978-0-8070-5079-8 | $26.95

FINALIST FOR THE PULITZER PRIZE FOR GENERAL NONFICTION

WINNER OF THE NATIONAL BOOK CRITICS CIRCLE AWARD FOR AUTOBIOGRAPHY; NATIONAL BOOK AWARDS FINALIST FOR GENERAL NONFICTION

Complete List of Titles Available

[Link to complete list]
We Hereby Refuse rings with power and authenticity. Wang’s searing Beautiful Country “Powerful... Wong’s memoir is full of wit and humor but also frustration and rage, and she doesn’t hold back in exposing the systemic oppression and inequities faced by disabled people in an ableist society... An empowering read.”—Reyna Grande, San Francisco Chronicle

Made in China An Activist’s Life Alice Wong A young girl forced to work in a Queens sweatshop calls child ser- vice as her mother’s powerful debut memoir about labor and self-worth that bears a Chinese immigrant’s journey to an American future. In Made in China, Alice Wong unflinches as she poses questions about trauma and survival in immigrant families, the meaning of work, and the costs of immigration. Granta | Paperback | 400 pages | 978-0-593-31539-2 | $17.00

Bridge to the Sun The Secret Role of the Japanese Americans Who Fought in the Pacific in World War II Bruce Henderson reveals the harrowing untold story of the Nisei and their future. In Bridge to the Sun, Henderson gives a groundbreaking memoir in essays offers a glimpse into an American journey of fighting and reclaiming community and the contin- ued fight for disability justice. Knopf | Hardcover | 480 pages | 978-0-525-65581-7 | $35.00

To request an examination copy for course consideration, visit PRHHigherEd.com/desk-and-exam
We Hereby Refuse
—Frank Abe, co-author of “Meticulously researched and expertly told, rings with power and authenticity. Wang’s searing

Beautiful Country
Alice Wong

Powerful. . . . Wong's memoir is full of wit and humor but also frustration

Translation
Alice Wong

Here is Qian Julie Wang’s memoir about growing up as an undocu-

Made in China
Anna Qu

A Memoir of Love and Labor
Anna Qu

A young girl forced to work in a Queens sweatshop calls child ser-

Bridge to the Sun
The Secret Side of the Japanese Americans Who Fought in the Pacific in World War II
Shirley Bovshow

Henderson reveals the harrowing untold story of the Nisei and their major contributions to the war in the Pacific through six Japanese

Asian American Studies
RECOMMENDED TITLES FOR COURSE ADOPTION FALL 2022

Asian American Histories of the United States
Delissa Davina Clay

Original and expansive, Asian American histories of the United States is a sitewide history of Asian migration, labor, and commu-

Minor Feelings
Cathy Park Hong

The poet and essayist fearlessly and provocatively blends memoir, cultural criticism, and history to expose fresh truths about racialized

The Loneliest Americans
Joy Cagiao Kang

The Loneliest Americans is a riveting blend of family history and

Conception
Conquest, Colonization, and an Immigrant Family’s Fate
Albert Samaha

Here is the story of how his mother had migrated to this land in 1965.

The youngest daughter of a high-ranking samurai in late-19th-century Japan, Simran Jeet Singh and Yuki Obayashi. The first time in decades, is an unforgettable tribute to the experiences Stay True forgiving and tender—which is to say, this is writing at its best.” —Gwen Yung, author of Dying Down the River

A Memoir

Introduction by University of California, Santa Cruz scholars Karen Tei Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi

The Light We Give: A Memoir of Grief, Memory, and the Story of Our Nation, its People, and the Pathway to a Better Future

Introduction by Karen Tei Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi

The Book of Form and Emptiness

Ryan Lee Wong

Which Side Are You On

Toni Morrison

How can we live with integrity and pleasure in this world of police brutality and racism? In Which Side Are You On, an African American feminist and activist is challenged by his mother to face this question in this powerful—and funny—tale of novel of generational change, a mother and her son come together to discuss the history of the resistance movements. This is a handsome, honest, and deeply moving novel at the heart of the American story, and it stands with undivided and committed communities.

Stay True: A Novel

Celeste Ng

From the author of Little Fire’s Everywhere. Our Missing Hearts is a buoyant, good-hearted, and sharply written novel about a family’s struggle and victory at a time when the world is divided, when some communities are at war and getting along is a challenge. The story’s telling is as tender and true as it is painful, and poignant—like a love song to a future that we hope and pray will be safe.

The Light We Give: A Memoir of Grief, Memory, and the Story of Our Nation, its People, and the Pathway to a Better Future

Introduction by Karen Tei Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi

The Chinese Grove: A Novel

Kathryn Ma

In the book, Kathryn Ma presents a captivating and compassionate portrait of a young Chinese American family living in America during the tumultuous 1920s. The novel is a beautifully written and evocative exploration of family and identity, as well as a poignant depiction of the challenges faced by immigrants in the United States. Through the lens of the Chinese Grove, Ma offers a heartwarming glimpse into the lives of these early Chinese Americans and the rich cultural heritage that continues to shape our world today.

The Book of Form and Emptiness

Ryan Lee Wong

Which Side Are You On

Toni Morrison

How can we live with integrity and pleasure in this world of police brutality and racism? In Which Side Are You On, an African American feminist and activist is challenged by his mother to face this question in this powerful—and funny—tale of novel of generational change, a mother and her son come together to discuss the history of the resistance movements. This is a handsome, honest, and deeply moving novel at the heart of the American story, and it stands with undivided and committed communities.

Stay True: A Novel

Celeste Ng

From the author of Little Fire’s Everywhere. Our Missing Hearts is a buoyant, good-hearted, and sharply written novel about a family’s struggle and victory at a time when the world is divided, when some communities are at war and getting along is a challenge. The story’s telling is as tender and true as it is painful, and poignant—like a love song to a future that we hope and pray will be safe.

The Light We Give: A Memoir of Grief, Memory, and the Story of Our Nation, its People, and the Pathway to a Better Future

Introduction by Karen Tei Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi

The Chinese Grove: A Novel

Kathryn Ma

In the book, Kathryn Ma presents a captivating and compassionate portrait of a young Chinese American family living in America during the tumultuous 1920s. The novel is a beautifully written and evocative exploration of family and identity, as well as a poignant depiction of the challenges faced by immigrants in the United States. Through the lens of the Chinese Grove, Ma offers a heartwarming glimpse into the lives of these early Chinese Americans and the rich cultural heritage that continues to shape our world today.

The Book of Form and Emptiness

Ryan Lee Wong

Which Side Are You On

Toni Morrison

How can we live with integrity and pleasure in this world of police brutality and racism? In Which Side Are You On, an African American feminist and activist is challenged by his mother to face this question in this powerful—and funny—tale of novel of generational change, a mother and her son come together to discuss the history of the resistance movements. This is a handsome, honest, and deeply moving novel at the heart of the American story, and it stands with undivided and committed communities.
On Earth We’re Briefly Gorgeous
—Ocean Vuong, author of The Daughter of Pakistani immigrants, Sofia Ali-Khan has lived, Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi.

Growing up in South Texas, Simran Jeet Singh and his brothers con-to find positive ways to direct his energy.

A memoir: Introductions by University of California, Santa Cruz scholars Karen Tei Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi.

The Chinese Grove
Kathryn Ma

The Chinese Grove is a bounty of good-hearted, sharply written novel about a belligerent optimist/hoarder with leg longs, stereotypically "untidy," but in fact, a well-kept man, a man who can navigate the waves of history and change. The book, which is a sequel to the first novel of the same name, continues the story of the Ali-Khan family, whose lives are deeply intertwined with those of the Singh family, their neighbors in the South Texas community of San Francisco.

The Book of Form and Emptiness
Ruth Ozeki

The Book of Form and Emptiness is a work of fiction that explores the interweaving of two cultures and the human condition. It tells the story of Etsu Inagaki Sugimoto, a Japanese woman who becomes engaged to a Japanese man in the late 19th century. The novel is part of a trilogy that also includes "The Daughter of Pakistani immigrants, Sofia Ali-Khan has lived, Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi.

The Accidental Asian
Sui Sin Far

The Accidental Asian is a novel by Sui Sin Far, a prominent Chinese American writer who lived in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The novel tells the story of a young Chinese woman named Li Yuan who travels to America to escape the poverty and oppression of her home country. She becomes involved in a series of events that lead to her adoption by a wealthy American family, which changes her life forever.

The Chinese Grove
Kathryn Ma

The Chinese Grove is a bounty of good-hearted, sharply written novel about a belligerent optimist/hoarder with leg longs, stereotypically "untidy," but in fact, a well-kept man, a man who can navigate the waves of history and change. The book, which is a sequel to the first novel of the same name, continues the story of the Ali-Khan family, whose lives are deeply intertwined with those of the Singh family, their neighbors in the South Texas community of San Francisco.

God of wan, comical of starting store that整治 the borders, memoirs, myths, and relationships of Asian American women, from the collection "Notes of a Native Speaker." On the surface her storytelling seems simple and direct, but the closer you look the more layered and complex it becomes. Wonderful. . . . On the surface her storytelling seems simple and direct, but the closer you look the more layered and complex it becomes. Wonderful. . . .

Thank You, Mr Nixon
Gail Lee Jin

The Chinese Grove is a bounty of good-hearted, sharply written novel about a belligerent optimist/hoarder with leg longs, stereotypically "untidy," but in fact, a well-kept man, a man who can navigate the waves of history and change. The book, which is a sequel to the first novel of the same name, continues the story of the Ali-Khan family, whose lives are deeply intertwined with those of the Singh family, their neighbors in the South Texas community of San Francisco.

God of wan, comical of starting store that整治 the borders, memoirs, myths, and relationships of Asian American women, from the collection "Notes of a Native Speaker." On the surface her storytelling seems simple and direct, but the closer you look the more layered and complex it becomes. Wonderful. . . .
Stay True
Stay True is a coming-of-age memoir about growing up and moving through the world as a Muslim woman. "You take on the central theme of a friend’s violent loss and cast from that experience and the resultant confusion, despair, and isolation in the world around you and a steady and capacious centrifugal force. This is the endeavor of writing at its most open, meticulous, and powerful—and funny—debut novel of generational change, a mother’s attachment to material possessions, and the cost of being consumed by fear. Ng’s third novel is a story about the power and limits of art to create change, the legacies we pass on to future generations, and of the ways supposedly civilized communities can contain the chaos of the world and give it meaning and order." —Donna Tartt, author of The Goldfinch

The Book of Form and Emptiness
A Novel
Ruth Ozeki
We are seduced by the beauty and power of the world around us, and we often attach to material possessions, even as we are consumed by fear. Ng’s third novel is a story about the power and limits of art to create change, the legacies we pass on to future generations, and of the ways supposedly civilized communities can contain the chaos of the world and give it meaning and order. —Donna Tartt, author of The Goldfinch

The Chinese Grove
Karthik Madhavan
The Chinese Grove is a young adult, heart-warming novel about a bilingual optimistic immigrant with big dreams, who is forced to make many hard decisions, including whether to stay in his native country or move to the United States. It is a story of hope and perseverance, and the challenges of maintaining a cultural identity.

Thank You, Mr Nixon
Gluck, John
The Chinese Grove is a young adult, heart-warming novel about a bilingual optimistic immigrant with big dreams, who is forced to make many hard decisions, including whether to stay in his native country or move to the United States. It is a story of hope and perseverance, and the challenges of maintaining a cultural identity.

Gods of Wind
A Family’s Journey
Joseph Kim
Set in the months leading up to the 2018 nuclear missile false alarm, The Chinese Grove is a young adult, heart-warming novel about a bilingual optimistic immigrant with big dreams, who is forced to make many hard decisions, including whether to stay in his native country or move to the United States. It is a story of hope and perseverance, and the challenges of maintaining a cultural identity.

Ocean Vuong
Stay True
The Chinese Grove is a young adult, heart-warming novel about a bilingual optimistic immigrant with big dreams, who is forced to make many hard decisions, including whether to stay in his native country or move to the United States. It is a story of hope and perseverance, and the challenges of maintaining a cultural identity.

Cathay Park Hong
Minor Feelings
...By turns picaresque and poignant, Kathryn Ma’s Forbidden City is a coming-of-age memoir about growing up and moving through the world as a Muslim woman. "You take on the central theme of a friend’s violent loss and cast from that experience and the resultant confusion, despair, and isolation in the world around you and a steady and capacious centrifugal force. This is the endeavor of writing at its most open, meticulous, and powerful—and funny—debut novel of generational change, a mother’s attachment to material possessions, and the cost of being consumed by fear. Ng’s third novel is a story about the power and limits of art to create change, the legacies we pass on to future generations, and of the ways supposedly civilized communities can contain the chaos of the world and give it meaning and order." —Donna Tartt, author of The Goldfinch

The Chinese Grove is a young adult, heart-warming novel about a bilingual optimistic immigrant with big dreams, who is forced to make many hard decisions, including whether to stay in his native country or move to the United States. It is a story of hope and perseverance, and the challenges of maintaining a cultural identity.

Thank You, Mr Nixon
Gluck, John
The Chinese Grove is a young adult, heart-warming novel about a bilingual optimistic immigrant with big dreams, who is forced to make many hard decisions, including whether to stay in his native country or move to the United States. It is a story of hope and perseverance, and the challenges of maintaining a cultural identity.

Gods of Wind
A Family’s Journey
Joseph Kim
Set in the months leading up to the 2018 nuclear missile false alarm, The Chinese Grove is a young adult, heart-warming novel about a bilingual optimistic immigrant with big dreams, who is forced to make many hard decisions, including whether to stay in his native country or move to the United States. It is a story of hope and perseverance, and the challenges of maintaining a cultural identity.
Ocean Vuong, author of Stay True, writes a story that, somehow, despite the hurt and confusion, forgiving and tender—which is to say, this is writing at its best.”

Simran Jeet Singh delved deep into Sikh teachings through the world in search of meaning and belonging.

Sofia Ali-Khan presents a vital portrait of our nation, its people, and the pathway to a better future.

Vanessa Hua, author of Forbidden City, writes, “This honest, hilarious, and deeply healing novel gets at the heart of the American experience.”

The Chinese Grove: A Memoir by Celeste Ng, author of Everything I Never Told You, is a story that explores the intergenerational legacies of writing.

Celeste Ng, author of The Book of Form and Emptiness, writes, “This is both an extremely vivid picture of a small family enduring unimaginable loss, and a very powerful meditation on the way books and solidarities within and between racial communities.”

Kathryn Mililun is a buoyant, good-hearted, and sharply written novel about a bright, optimistic immigrant with big dreams, dire circumstances, and an idiosyncratic family who does not want to be left alone by their adoptive country. The Chinese Grove is an utterly original exploration of the Chinese diaspora, in all its beauty and pain.

Kathryn Mililun is a buoyant, good-hearted, and sharply written novel about a bright, optimistic immigrant with big dreams, dire circumstances, and an idiosyncratic family who does not want to be left alone by their adoptive country. The Chinese Grove is an utterly original exploration of the Chinese diaspora, in all its beauty and pain.

Stay True by Ali Bilo

Stay True is a coming-of-age memoir about growing up and moving through the world as a Muslim woman being told daily: “You’re too loud, too bright, too direct, too smart, too independent.”

Stay True is an urgent story about the power and the promise of being a young woman who is free of the rules that have long oppressed her. A story about the profound beauty and danger of being young and female, a story about a fierce, smart girl who is unafraid to be her whole self and to defy the expectations others have for her.

The Key Light of a Woman

This is a story about a woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. The Key Light of a Woman is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

The Book of Form and Emptiness

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. The Book of Form and Emptiness is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

The Chinese Grove

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. The Chinese Grove is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

The Book of Form and Emptiness

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. The Book of Form and Emptiness is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

Minor Feelings

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. Minor Feelings is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

Thank You, Mr. Nixon

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. Thank You, Mr. Nixon is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

The Accidental Asian

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. The Accidental Asian is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

Websites of the Fall

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. The Websites of the Fall is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

All You Can Ever Know

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. All You Can Ever Know is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

Go Ahead in the Rain

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. Go Ahead in the Rain is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

The Woman Warrior

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. The Woman Warrior is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

We are the People

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. We are the People is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

Facing the Mountain

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. Facing the Mountain is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

Radiant Fugitives

This is a story about a young woman who is determined to find her way back to the mother she once knew, to the stories she heard growing up, to the world she thought she knew. Radiant Fugitives is a story about love, loss, and the search for meaning.

PICTURE THIS

To request an examination copy for course consideration, visit PHTHighered.com/desk-and-exam
Complete List of Titles Available

Recommended Titles for Course Adoption Fall 2022

Asian American Studies

Beautiful Country: A Memoir of an Undocumented Childhood
Qian Julie Wang

Here is Qian: A young woman in a Queens sweatshop, forced to work to support her family. Her mom ministries under the weight of invisibility, and a girl coming of age in the yawning cracks in the American Dream. An eloquent, thoughtful, and touching memoir—Joan Reck, author of Girl in Translation.

Year of the Tiger
An Activist’s Life
Alice Wong

Alice Wong, the founder and director of the Disability Visibility Project, and the editor of the acclaimed anthology Disability Visibility, gives a groundbreaking memoir in essays offers a glimpse into an activist’s journey to finding and cultivatıng community and the continıued fight for disability justice.

Made in China
A Memoir of Love and Labor
Anna Qu

A young girl Forced to work in a Queens sweatshop calls child servıces on her mother in this powerful debut memoir about labor and immigration. In Made in China, Anna Qu is unafraid to ask thorny questions about trauma and survival in immigrant families. The meaning of self-worth that traces a Chinese immigrant’s journey to an American multicultural elite. Kang’s exquisitely crafted book calls for a new immigrant solidarity—one rooted not in bubble tea and elite college admissions but in the struggles of Filipinos and the working class.

Bridge to the Sun
The Secret Role of the Japanese Americans Who Fought in the Pacific in World War II
Bruce Henderson

Henderson reveals the harrowing untold story of the Nisei and their major contributions in the war of the Pacific, through six Japanese American soldiers. Even after most of the World War II records were declassified, many of the files remained undisturbed in various archives. This is one of the last, great untold stories of World War II.

Minor Feelings
An Asian American Reckoning
Cathy Park Hong

Traces Hong’s relationship to the English language, to shame and rage, and she doesn’t hold back in exposing the systemic oppressıon and inequality fixed by systems of invisibility. An empowering read.—Reyna Grande, San Francisco Chronicle

The Loneliest Americans
Jay Caspian Kang

The Loneliest Americans is a riveting blend of family history and original reportage, unfolding against the backdrop of a rapidly expanding Asian America, as millions more immigrants—many of them working-class or undocumented—arrive in the US by the same time, eagerly mobile urban professionals struggle to reconcile their parents’ assimilationist goals with membership in a vibrant and diverse group of fellow immigrants. Kang’s exquisitely crafted book calls for a new immigrant solidarity—one rooted not in bubble tea and elite college admissions but in the struggles of Filipinos and the working class.

Conception
Conquistador: Conquest, Colonialism, and an Immigrant Family’s Fate
Albert Samaha

Living in a place where his mother had migrated to the US, 10-year-old Albert Samaha began to question whether his decision to abandon the Indo-Chinese values and the Philippine fabric of his life would result in the cost. Following his family’s history through the epochs, unique geopołitical crises in Spanish colonization, African intervention, and Japanese occupation, Samaha fills this arc into the wider story of global migration as determined by stress, success among circumstances.

The Loneliest Americans
Brorion (Paperback) ISBN 1-593-1300-5-0

Minor Feelings
Catapult | Paperback | 224 pages | 978-1-64622-152-3 | $16.95

Beacon Press | Hardcover | 240 pages | 978-0-8070-5079-8 | $26.95

Jay Caspian Kang

Conectión
Athena (Paperback) ISBN 1-593-1300-5-0

Catapult | Paperback | 224 pages | 978-1-64622-152-3 | $16.95

Knopf | Hardcover | 480 pages | 978-0-525-65581-7 | $35.00

Cathy Park Hong

Minor Feelings
Catherine Ceniza Choy

Asian American Histories of the United States

Catherine Ceniza Choy

Asian American Histories of the United States

Beacon Press | Hardcover | 320 pages | 978-0-8070-5079-8 | $26.95

Ally Samaha

Conquest
Conquest

Beacon Press | Hardcover | 320 pages | 978-0-8070-5079-8 | $26.95