The Myth of American Idealism

How U.S. Foreign Policy Endangers the World

Noam Chomsky and Nathan J. Robinson

From one of the world's most prominent thinkers, The Myth of American Idealism offers an urgent warning of the threat that U.S. power poses to humanity's future as well as a sharp indictment of both American foreign policy and the national myths that support it.

Penguin Press | Hardcover | 416 pages | 978-0-593-65632-7 | $32.00

One Nation Under Guns

How Gun Culture Distorts Our History and Threatens Our Democracy

Dominic Erdozain

Historian Dominic Erdozain argues that we have wrongly ceded the big-picture argument on guns: As we parse legislation on background checks and automatic-weapons bans, we fail to ask what place guns should have in a functioning democracy. Taking readers on a brilliant historical journey, Erdozain shows how the founders feared the tyranny of individuals as much as the tyranny of kings, revealing the founders' true idea of what it means to be free.

Crown | Hardcover | 288 pages | 978-0-593-59431-5 | $28.00

In the Shadow of Liberty

The Invisible History of Immigrant Detention in the United States

Ana Raquel Minian

A probing work of narrative history that reveals the hidden story of immigrant detention in the United States, deepening urgent national conversations around migration.

"Through deep archival research, unflinching historical analysis, and fearless reporting, Ana Raquel Minian explains how a country that prides itself as a nation of immigrants became, at the same time, a nation of prisons."—Jill Lepore, author of These Truths

Viking | Hardcover | 384 pages | 978-0-593-65425-5 | $32.00

On Freedom

Timothy Snyder

Drawing on the work of philosophers and political dissidents, conversations with contemporary thinkers, and his own experiences coming of age in a time of American exceptionalism, Snyder identifies the practices and attitudes—the habits of mind—that will allow us to design a government in which we and future generations can flourish. Intimate yet ambitious, this book helps forge a new consensus rooted in a politics of abundance, generosity, and grace.

Crown | Hardcover | 368 pages | 978-0-593-72872-7 | $32.00

The Ruin of All Witches

Life and Death in the New World

Malcolm Gaskill

A gripping story of a family tragedy brought about by witch-hunting in Puritan New England that combines history, anthropology, sociology, politics, theology and psychology.

"This is one of those rare history books that stays with you and haunts you long after you have turned the last page. Superb." —The Guardian

Vintage | Paperback | 336 pages | 978-0-593-46710-7 | $18.00

Founding Partisans

Hamilton, Madison, Jefferson, Adams and the Brawling Birth of American Politics

H. W. Brands

From historian and Pulitzer Prize finalist H.W. Brands, a revelatory history of the shocking emergence of vicious political division at the birth of the United States.

"A compelling retelling. . . . Brands's] industry is intimidating, as is his ability to blend efficient research with solid prose. Brands puts these to good use in Founding Partisans." —The Washington Post

Vintage | Paperback | 464 pages | 978-0-593-46903-3 | $20.00

This Fierce People

The Untold Story of America's Revolutionary War in the South
Alan Pell Crawford

The overlooked story of the critical aspect of America's Revolutionary War that was fought in the South, showing that the battles that emerged south of the Mason-Dixon line were, in fact, America's first civil war.

"Mr. Crawford's account is incisively and carefully written, splendidly paced, and supported by a mine of primary and secondary sources. . . . Mr. Crawford, a journalist and historian . . . doesn't ignore the role of slavery in the ferocity of southern resistance." —The Wall Street Journal

Knopf | Hardcover | 400 pages | 978-0-593-31850-8 | $32.50

Revolution by Fire

New York's Afro-Irish Uprising of 1741

Marcus Rediker and David Lester with Paul Buhle

"Revolution by Fire is a riveting graphic narrative of the 1741 New York City slave conspiracy. The innovative graphic narrative brings into full view America's slave past and how enslaved people courageously rebelled against their enslavers. Readers particularly interested in the multiracial dimensions of slave resistance will find this graphic narrative a real gem." —Dr. Karlos K. Hill, author of The Murder of Emmett Till: A Graphic History

Beacon Press | Paperback | 176 pages | 978-0-8070-1255-0 | $18.95

A Brutal Reckoning

Andrew Jackson, the Creek Indians, and the Epic War for the American South
Peter Cozzens

The story of the pivotal struggle between the Creek Indians and an insatiable, young United States for control over the Deep South.

“A penetrating and fast-paced account. . . . The story of the Creek War is a sorry one, but Cozzens recounts it both with fairness and with a richness of color and detail. . . . Cozzens writes with sensitivity about the political and cultural vise in which the Creeks were crushed.”—The Wall Street Journal

Our Ancient Faith

Lincoln, Democracy, and the American Experiment
Allen C. Guelzo

An intimate study of Abraham Lincoln’s powerful vision of democracy, which guided him through the Civil War and is still relevant today.

“Guelzo looks to the 19th century to identify the challenges of sustaining a free society. He argues compellingly that Abraham Lincoln, who fought to defend the American republic against autocratic forces in the South while restricting civil liberties in the North, can help us figure out how to strike a balance.”—The New York Times

Brought Forth on This Continent

Abraham Lincoln and American Immigration
Harold Holzer

From acclaimed Abraham Lincoln historian Harold Holzer, Brought Forth on this Continent is a groundbreaking account of Lincoln’s grappling with the politics of immigration against the backdrop of the Civil War.

“As a brilliant historian with a keen sense of the passions and problems of our own time, Harold Holzer has given us a powerful and illuminating study of Abraham Lincoln and immigration.”—Jon Meacham, Pulitzer Prize-winning biographer

Dutton | Hardcover | 464 pages | 978-0-451-48901-2 | $35.00

The Demon of Unrest

A Saga of Hubris, Heartbreak, and Heroism at the Dawn of the Civil War
Erik Larson

Master storyteller Erik Larson offers a gripping account of the chaotic months between Lincoln’s election and the Confederacy’s shelling of Sumter—a period marked by tragic errors and miscommunications, inflamed egos and craven ambitions, personal tragedies and betrayals. Drawing on diaries, secret communiques, slave ledgers, and plantation records, Larson gives us a political horror story that captures the forces that led America to the brink.

Crown | Hardcover | 592 pages | 978-0-385-34874-4 | $35.00

America First

Roosevelt vs. Lindbergh in the Shadow of War
H. W. Brands

Pulitzer Prize finalist H. W. Brands narrates the fierce debate over America's role in the world in the runup to World War II through its two most important figures: President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who advocated intervention, and his isolationist nemesis, aviator and popular hero Charles Lindbergh.

"It provides critical historical insight into the heated debate currently building between internationalists and today's America First isolationists."—Charles A. Kupchan, Georgetown University and Council on Foreign Relations, author of Isolationism.

Doubleday | Hardcover | 464 pages | 978-0-385-55041-3 | $35.00

The Cancer Factory

Industrial Chemicals, Corporate Deception, and the Hidden Deaths of American Workers
Jim Morris

The Cancer Factory tells the story of the workers who experienced one of the nation's worst, and best-documented, outbreaks of work-related cancer, and the lawyer who has represented the victims at the plant for more than 30 years. Goodyear, and its chemical supplier, DuPont, knew that two of the chemicals used in the plant had been shown to cause cancer, but made little effort to protect the plant's workers until the cluster of cancer cases was undeniable.

Beacon Press | Paperback | 264 pages | 978-0-8070-1642-8 | $18.95

When Crack Was King

A People's History of a Misunderstood Era
Donovan X. Ramsey

The crack epidemic of the 1980s and 1990s is arguably the least examined crisis in American history. Beginning with the myths inspired by Reagan's war on drugs, journalist Donovan X. Ramsey traces the path from the last triumphs of the Civil Rights Movement to today's racist criminal justice system, continued mass incarceration and gentrification, and increased police brutality.

One World | Paperback | 448 pages | 978-0-525-51181-6 | $19.99

Longlisted for the National Book Award for Nonfiction; Finalist for the National Book Critics Circle's John Leonard Prize for Best First Book

Voices of a People's History of the United States in the 21st Century

Documents of Hope and Resistance
Edited by Anthony Arnove and Haley Pessin

Inspired by the original Voices of a People's History of the United States, this book features speeches, essays, poems, and calls to action from Black Lives Matter, #MeToo, Indigenous struggles, immigrant rights activists, the environmental movement, disability justice organizers, and frontline workers during the global pandemic.

Gathering more than 100 texts from social movements that have shaped the 21st century, this book includes contributions from Angela Y. Davis, Nick Estes, Colin Kaepernick, Rebecca Solnit, Viet Thanh Nguyen, Howard Zinn, Naomi Klein, and many others.

Seven Stories Press | Paperback | 448 pages | 978-1-64421-297-4 | $24.95

Stench

The Making of the Thomas Court and the Unmaking of America
David Brock

A blistering exposé of Clarence Thomas and the conservative regime of corruption that has usurped the Supreme Court—by a Democratic activist and former Republican political operative.

“Captures one of the most consequential elements of the crisis facing the American Republic: a Supreme Court fully invested in an activist approach to the law and the Constitution. Stench is a road map on how they did it, what comes next, and the consequences for us all.”—Rick Wilson

Tyranny of the Minority

Steven Levitsky & Daniel Ziblatt

America is moving, in fits and starts, toward a multiracial democracy, something few societies have ever done. But the prospect of change has sparked an authoritarian backlash that threatens the very foundations of our political system. With clarity and brilliance, Harvard professors Steven Levitsky and Daniel Ziblatt offer a coherent framework for understanding these volatile times and issue an urgent call to reform our politics.

Crown | Paperback | 384 pages | 978-0-593-44309-5 | $20.00

American Woman

The Transformation of the Modern First Lady,
from Hillary Clinton to Jill Biden

Katie Rogers

Since the Clinton era, shifts in media, politics, and pop culture have all redefined expectations of First Ladies, even as the boundaries set upon them have often remained anachronistic. With sharp insights and dozens of firsthand interviews with major players in the Biden, Obama, Trump, Bush, and Clinton orbits, New York Times White House correspondent Katie Rogers traces the evolution of the role of the 21st-century First Lady from a ceremonial figurehead to a powerful political operator.

Crown | Hardcover | 304 pages | 978-0-593-24056-4 | $30.00

Rooted

The American Legacy of Land Theft and the Modern Movement for Black Land Ownership

Brea Baker

Why is less than 1% of rural land in the U.S. owned by Black people? Baker explores the impact of land theft and violent displacement on racial wealth gaps, arguing that justice stems from the literal roots of the earth.

“Brea Baker’s Rooted is a moving, insightful, and intimate account of the history of Black land ownership and land theft in the United States.”—Keisha N. Blain, historian, professor, and co-editor of Four Hundred Souls

One World | Hardcover | 320 pages | 978-0-593-44737-6 | $30.00

The Harlem Ghetto

Essays

James Baldwin

The Harlem Ghetto: Essays explores the American condition through a mix of analytic and autobiographical essays. This collection is Baldwin's most personal as he grapples with his childhood and his own affinity with Blackness.

"He named for me the things you feel but couldn't utter. . . . Jimmy's essays articulated for the first time to white America what it meant to be American and a black American at the same time."—Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

Beacon Press | Hardcover | 120 pages | 978-0-8070-1865-1 | $20.00

Everybody's Protest Novel

Essays

James Baldwin

In this collection of essays, James Baldwin examines the façade of progress present in the novels of Black oppression. These essays showcase Baldwin's profound ability to reveal the truth of the Black experience, exposing the failure of the protest novel, and the state of racial reckoning at the dawn of the Civil Rights Movement.

"As Baldwin once said, reading allows us to recognize each other . . . It makes everything seem possible. May we find hope in his brilliant words."—Imani Perry, author of Looking for Lorraine

Beacon Press | Hardcover | 104 pages | 978-0-8070-1694-7 | $20.00

The Black Box

Writing the Race

Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

A foundational reckoning with how Black Americans have used the written word to define and redefine themselves over the course of the country's history.

"Henry Louis Gates is a national treasure. Here, he returns with an intellectual and at times deeply personal meditation on the hard-fought evolution and the very meaning of African American identity, calling upon our country to transcend its manufactured divisions."—Isabel Wilkerson, author of The Warmth of Other Suns and Caste

Penguin Press | Hardcover | 304 pages | 978-0-593-29978-4 | $30.00

The 1619 Project

A New Origin Story

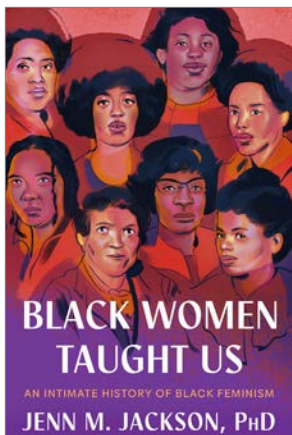

Created by Nikole Hannah-Jones &
The New York Times Magazine

The New York Times Magazine's award-winning "1619 Project" issue re-framed our understanding of American history by placing slavery and its continuing legacy at the center of our national narrative. This new book substantially expands on that work, weaving together essays, poems, and works of fiction that illuminate key moments of oppression, struggle, and resistance.

One World | Paperback | 624 pages | 978-0-593-23059-6 | $25.00

Winner of the NAACP Image Award for Outstanding Literary Work – Nonfiction; Finalist for the Kirkus Prize for Nonfiction

Black Women Taught Us

An Intimate History of Black Feminism

Jenn M. Jackson, PhD

Across 11 original essays that explore the legacy of Black women writers and leaders—from Harriet Jacobs and Ida B. Wells to the Combahee River Collective and Audre Lorde—Jackson sets the record straight about Black women’s longtime movement organizing, theorizing, and coalition building in the name of racial, gender, and sexual justice in the United States and abroad.

Random House | Hardcover | 368 pages | 978-0-593-24333-6 | $30.00

Breaking the Chains

African American Slave Resistance

William Loren Katz

Generations of American history students have grown up believing that enslaved people accepted their lot and became attached to their enslavers, that rebellion was rare, and that liberation from slavery happened thanks to the enslavers. Celebrated historian William Loren Katz offers a thoroughly researched look at the lives of enslaved people in the United States.

Triangle Square | Paperback | 256 pages | 978-1-64421-265-3 | $16.95

Stamped from the Beginning

A Graphic History of Racist Ideas in America

Ibram X. Kendi and Joel Christian Gill

In collaboration with award-winning historian and comic artist Joel Christian Gill, this is a stunningly illustrated graphic-novel adaptation of Dr. Kendi’s groundbreaking National Book Award–winning text. This history of how racist ideas have shaped American life explores how we can learn from the past to work toward a more equitable, antiracist future.

Ten Speed Graphic | Paperback | 288 pages | 978-1-9848-5944-0 | $24.99

Nominated for the NAACP Image Award for Outstanding Literary Work – Graphic Novel

Built from the Fire

The Epic Story of Tulsa’s Greenwood District, America’s Black Wall Street

Victor Luckerson

The Tulsa Race Massacre of 1921 was one of the most brutal acts of racist violence in U.S. history. But that was never the whole story of Greenwood. In Built from the Fire, journalist Victor Luckerson tells the story, through the eyes of dozens of race massacre survivors and their descendants, of an aspirant Black neighborhood that has long been buffeted by racist government policies but refused, more than once, to be erased.

Random House | Paperback | 688 pages | 978-0-593-13439-9 | $25.00

Night Flyer

Harriet Tubman and the Faith Dreams of a Free People
Tiya Miles; curated by Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

Harriet Tubman traversed many boundaries. Now, thanks to Tiya Miles, she becomes an even clearer and sharper signal from the past, one that can help us to echolocate a more just path.

“Though broad strokes of Tubman’s story are widely known, Miles probes deeper, examining her inner life, faith and relationships with other enslaved Black women to paint a deeper, more vibrant portrait of a historical figure whose mythic status can sometimes overshadow her humanity.”—The New York Times

Penguin Press | Hardcover | 336 pages | 978-0-593-49116-4 | $30.00

The White Peril

A Family Memoir
Omo Moses

Omo Moses deftly interweaves his own life story with excerpts from both his great-grandfather’s sermons and the writings of his father, the civil rights activist Bob Moses. The result is a powerful chorus of voices that spans three generations of an African American family, all shining a light on the Black experience, all calling fiercely for racial justice.

Beacon Press | Hardcover | 280 pages | 978-0-8070-0482-1 | $29.95

A Passionate Mind in Relentless Pursuit

The Vision of Mary McLeod Bethune
Noliwe Rooks; curated by Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

An intimate and searching account of the life and legacy of Mary McLeod Bethune, one of America’s towering educators who dared to center the progress of Black women and girls in the larger struggle for political and social liberation.

“Learning about Bethune through Rooks’s lens is both a privilege and an honor for educators and readers alike.”—Bettina L. Love, Columbia University

Penguin Press | Hardcover | 208 pages | 978-0-593-49242-0 | $28.00

The Rebellious Life of Mrs. Rosa Parks

Jeanne Theoharis

Presenting a corrective to the popular notion of Rosa Parks as the quiet seamstress who, with a single act, birthed the modern civil rights movement, Jeanne Theoharis provides a revealing window into Parks’s politics and years of activism. She shows readers how this civil rights movement radical sought—for more than a half a century—to expose and eradicate the American racial-caste system in jobs, schools, public services, and criminal justice.

Beacon Press | Paperback | 344 pages | 978-0-8070-2061-6 | $22.00

Magical Urbanism

Latinos Reinvent the US City

Mike Davis

Fully updated throughout, and with new chapters on the urban Southwest and the exploding counter-migration of Anglos to Mexico, Magical Urbanism is essential reading for anyone who wants to grasp the future of urban America

"This well-researched, well-written book is driven by powerful feelings of indignation at the hardships Latinos are suffering in the United States today."—The Washington Post

Verso | Paperback | 224 pages | 978-1-80429-473-4 | $24.95

Stranger in the Desert

A Family Story

Jordan Salama

Jordan Salama, author of Every Day the River Changes, is American, Syrian, Argentinian, and Iraqi Jewish. Inspired by his global genealogy and the family lore that he may have long-lost relatives in Argentina, Jordan goes in search of the "Lost Salamas," traveling more than a thousand miles through the Argentine Andes.

Catapult | Hardcover | 240 pages | 978-1-64622-165-3 | $27.00

The Literature of Japanese American Incarceration

Edited with an Introduction by Frank Abe and Floyd Cheung

This anthology presents the literature produced by the people targeted by the actions of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Congress to deny Americans of Japanese ancestry any individual hearings or other due process after the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor. From nearly seventy selections of fiction, poetry, essays, memoirs, and letters emerges a shared story of the struggle to retain personal integrity in the face of increasing dehumanization, anchored by the key government documents that incite the action.

Penguin Classics | Paperback | 336 pages | 978-0-14-313328-5 | $20.00

Starry Field

A Memoir of Lost History

Margaret Juhae Lee

Starry Field is a poignant memoir by journalist Margaret Juhae Lee, who sets out on a search for her family's history lost to the darkness of Korea's colonial decades, and contends with the shockwaves of violence that followed them over four generations and across continents.

"Starry Field reminds us that even knowing where we came from won't tell us where we're going—but it will help along the way."—Susan Choi, National Book Award winning author of Trust Exercise

Melville House | Hardcover | 288 pages | 978-1-68589-093-3 | $32.50

Native Nations

A Millennium in North America

Kathleen DuVal

This magisterial history of Indigenous North America places the power of Native nations at its center, telling their story from the rise of ancient cities more than a thousand years ago to fights for sovereignty that continue today. Kathleen DuVal shows how the definitions of power and means of exerting it shifted over time, but the sovereignty and influence of Native peoples remained a constant—and will continue far into the future.

Random House | Hardcover | 752 pages | 978-0-525-51103-8 | $38.00

Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz's Indigenous Peoples' History of the United States

A Graphic Interpretation

Adapted by Paul Peart-Smith

Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz's influential New York Times bestseller exposed the brutality of this nation's founding and its legacy of settler-colonialism and genocide. Through evocative full color artwork, renowned cartoonist Paul Peart-Smith brings this watershed book to life, centering the perspective of the peoples displaced by Europeans and their white descendants to trace Indigenous perseverance over four centuries against policies intended to obliterate them.

Beacon Press | Hardcover | 120 pages | 978-0-8070-1268-0 | $22.95

On Savage Shores

How Indigenous Americans Discovered Europe

Caroline Dodds Pennock

A landmark work of narrative history that shatters our previous Eurocentric understanding of the Age of Discovery by telling the story of the Indigenous Americans who journeyed across the Atlantic to Europe after 1492.

“On Savage Shores not only changes how we think about the first contact between America and Europe but also sets the methodological standard for a new way of understanding the origin of the modern world.”—The New York Review of Books

Lesbian Love Story

A Memoir In Archives

Amelia Possanza

Centered around seven love stories for the ages, this is Amelia Possanza's journey into the archives to recover the personal histories of lesbians in the twentieth century: who they were, how they loved, why their stories were destroyed, and where their memories echo and live on.

“The stories are deeply researched and imaginatively told through a mix of historical record, primary sources, invented scenes and the author's own wrestling with the meaning of what she finds.”—Brittany Cronin, NPR

Catapult | Paperback | 288 pages | 978-1-64622-223-0 | $16.95

Nuclear War

A Scenario

Annie Jacobsen

Pulitzer Prize finalist Annie Jacobsen's Nuclear War explores the ticking-clock nuclear scenario, based on dozens of exclusive new interviews with military and civilian experts who have built the weapons, have been privy to the response plans, and have been responsible for those decisions should they have needed to be made.

Dutton | Hardcover | 400 pages | 978-0-593-47609-3 | $30.00

The Strategists

Churchill, Stalin, Roosevelt, Mussolini, and Hitler—
How War Made Them and How They Made War

Phillips Payson O'Brien

Churchill. Hitler. Stalin. Mussolini. Roosevelt. Five of the most impactful leaders of World War Two, each with their own individualistic and idiosyncratic approach to warfare. In The Strategists, Professor Phillips Payson O'Brien shows how the views these five leaders forged in World War I are crucial to understanding how they fought World War II.

Dutton | Hardcover | 544 pages | 978-1-5247-4648-3 | $35.00

The Earth Transformed

An Untold History

Peter Frankopan

A revolutionary new history that reveals how climate change has dramatically shaped the development—and demise—of civilizations across time.

“Thanks to Frankopan and the specialists he cites, the triumphalist procession of steles and slabs and coins that have formed the building blocks of history will give way to a deeper consideration of what constitutes a historical source. . . . Again and again the hindsight that Frankopan exploits so intelligently forces us to look afresh at things we thought we knew.”—The New York Review of Books

Nexus

A Brief History of Information Networks
from the Stone Age to AI

Yuval Noah Harari

Nexus looks through the long lens of human history to consider how the flow of information has shaped us, and our world. Yuval Noah Harari asks us to consider the complex relationship between information and truth, bureaucracy and mythology, wisdom and power, exploring the hopeful middle ground between these extremes as we chart the course for our collective future.

Pathogenesis

A History of the World in Eight Plagues

Jonathan Kennedy

Drawing on the latest research in fields ranging from genetics and anthropology to archaeology and economics, Pathogenesis takes us through 60,000 years of history, exploring eight major outbreaks of infectious disease that have made the modern world. Kennedy challenges some of the most fundamental assumptions about our collective past—and urges us to view this moment as another disease-driven inflection point that will change the course of history.

Crown | Paperback | 320 pages | 978-0-593-24049-6 | $20.00

How the World Made the West

A 4,000 Year History

Josephine Quinn

According to award-winning Oxford history professor Josephine Quinn, reducing the backstory of the modern West to a narrative that focuses on Greece and Rome impoverishes our view of the past. In How the World Made the West, she overturns the way the West thinks about itself, tracing its innovations and traditions to societies from all over the world and making the case that the West is, and always has been, truly global.

Random House | Hardcover | 592 pages | 978-0-593-72979-3 | $38.00

The Wide Wide Sea

Imperial Ambition, First Contact and the Fateful Final Voyage of Captain James Cook
Hampton Sides

A superbly crafted account of the most momentous voyage of the Age of Exploration, which culminated in Captain James Cook's death in Hawaii, and left a complex and controversial legacy still debated to this day.

"Gripping. . . Sides recreates the newness of the experience, the vast differences in and among Indigenous cultures, and natural phenomena that were as terrifying as they were wondrous."—The Washington Post

Doubleday | Hardcover | 432 pages | 978-0-385-54476-4 | $35.00

The Horse

A Galloping History of Humanity

Timothy C. Winegard

5,500 years ago, horses revolutionized the way we hunted, traded, traveled, farmed, fought, worshipped, and interacted. They fundamentally reshaped the human genome and the world's linguistic map. They determined international borders, molded cultures, fueled economies, and built global superpowers. Driven by fascinating revelations and fast-paced storytelling, The Horse is a riveting narrative of this noble animal's unrivaled and enduring reign across human history.

Dutton | Hardcover | 544 pages | 978-0-593-18608-4 | $35.00

Goodbye, Eastern Europe

An Intimate History of a Divided Land
Jacob Mikanowski

A crucial, elucidative read, a sweeping epic chronicling a thousand years of strife, war, and bloodshed, from pre-Christianity to the fall of Communism—illuminating the remarkable cultural significance and richness of a place perpetually lost to the margins of history.

“[A] kaleidoscopic guide to Eastern Europe’s past. . . . As democracy retreats and a new war rages. . . . One must wonder if its future will resemble the vanished world that Jacob Mikanowski vividly brings to life.”—The Washington Times

The Missing Thread

A Women’s History of the Ancient World
Daisy Dunn

In this monumental work, Dunn reconceives our understanding of the ancient world by emphasizing women’s roles within it. Spanning three thousand years, the story moves from Minoan Crete to Mycenaean Greece, from Lesbos to Asia Minor, from the Persian Empire to the royal court of Macedonia, and concludes with Rome and its growing empire.

“Brilliantly conceived and written, The Missing Thread unerringly fingers the ancients’ inability to understand women and view them in the round.”
—Professor Paul Cartledge, University of Cambridge

Viking | Hardcover | 480 pages | 978-0-593-29966-1 | $35.00

The Greek Histories

The Sweeping History of Ancient Greece as Told by Its First Chroniclers: Herodotus, Thucydides, Xenophon, and Plutarch
Edited by Mary Lefkowitz and James Romm

The historians of ancient Greece were pioneers of a new literary craft whose work forms the foundation of a major modern discipline. From the leading scholars behind The Greek Plays, this highly readable edition includes revised translations of the most important, and most widely taught, selections from Herodotus, Thucydides, Xenophon, and Plutarch, providing a comprehensive account of the entire classical Greek age in a single volume.

This Earthly Globe

A Venetian Geographer and the Quest to Map the World
Andrea di Robilant

The story of an Italian Renaissance book editor who introduced European minds to the wider world through his passion for geography.

“A deeply researched look at the editor and author of one of the ‘great publishing feats’ of the 16th century. In this elegant history, di Robilant engagingly traces Ramusio’s vast scholarship, which began with his position as an editing assistant to Aldus Manutius, the legendary Venetian publisher. . . . An erudite work that shows how one devoted scholar opened up an entire realm of knowledge.”—Kirkus Reviews

Time's Echo

Music, Memory, and the Second World War
Jeremy Eichler

A stirring account of how music bears witness to history and carries forward the memory of the wartime past.

"A groundbreaking work . . . Eichler's unique approach to exploring history will likely compel readers to listen to these compositions for the first time or anew, empowered by a more nuanced understanding of their importance."—Jonathan Fass, Jewish Book Council

Hitler's People

The Faces of the Third Reich
Richard J. Evans

Through a connected set of biographical portraits of key Nazi figures that follows power as it radiated out from Hitler to the inner and outer circles of the regime's leadership, historian Richard J. Evans answers the enduring question, how does a society come to carry out a program of unspeakable evil?

Out of the Darkness

The Germans, 1942-2022
Frank Trentmann

A gripping and nuanced history of the German people from World War II to the war in Ukraine, including revealing new primary source material on Germany's transformation.

"[A] rich, ambitious account of Germany's improbable rise from a moral abyss to a prosperous democracy that is sometimes held up as a bulwark of stability and liberal values . . . [the book] remains fresh and surprising throughout, thanks in part to Trentmann's knack for drawing on an astounding range of voices."—The Washington Post

The Blazing World

A New History of Revolutionary England, 1603-1689
Jonathan Healey

A fresh history of seventeenth-century England, a time of revolution when society was on fire and simultaneously forging the modern world.

"While narrating this tempestuous past, Healey has an eye on the present. He regards key stages in the political and intellectual history of revolutionary England as 'steps on a longer journey' toward modern democracy. . . . This readable and informative overview evokes a lost world which, for better or worse, 'was blazing a path toward our own.'"—The New York Times

Henry V

The Astonishing Triumph of England's Greatest Warrior King
Dan Jones

By common consensus in his day, and for hundreds of years afterward, Henry V was the greatest medieval king that ever lived. Through skillful leadership, unwavering vision, and seemingly by sheer force of personality, he managed to catapult his realm into the greatest triumphs it has ever achieved. Drawing on the latest scholarship and writing with his characteristic wit and style, Dan Jones examines the king's legendary life—and he puts Henry's claim to greatness very vigorously to the test.

Judgment at Tokyo

World War II on Trial and the Making of Modern Asia
Gary J. Bass

A landmark, magisterial history of the trial of Japan's leaders as war criminals—the largely overlooked Asian counterpart to Nuremberg.

“A riveting account of this lesser-known piece of Asian history. . . . Through his vivid storytelling, he . . . exposes the dilemma between idealism and pragmatism.”—NPR

Coming Out as Dalit

A Memoir of Surviving India's Caste System
Yashica Dutt

Born into a “formerly untouchable manual-scavenging family in small-town India,” Yashica Dutt was taught from a young age to not appear “Dalit looking.” Although prejudice against Dalits, who compose 25% of the population, has been illegal since 1950, caste-ism in India is alive and well. Blending her personal history with extensive research and reporting, Dutt provides an incriminating analysis of caste's influence in India over everything from entertainment to judicial systems and how this discrimination has carried over to U.S. institutions.

Hiroshima

The Last Witnesses
M. G. Sheftall

In this vividly rendered historical narrative, M. G. Sheftall layers the stories of hibakusha—the Japanese word for atomic bomb survivors—in harrowing detail, to give a minute-by-minute report of August 6, 1945. He stands out among historians due to his fluency in spoken and written Japanese, and his longtime immersion in Japanese society that has allowed him, a white American, the unheard-of access to these atomic bomb survivors in the waning years of their lives.

I, Rigoberta Menchú

An Indian Woman in Guatemala

Rigoberta Menchú

Edited by Elisabeth Burgos-Debray

Now a global bestseller, the remarkable life of Rigoberta Menchú, a Guatemalan peasant woman, reflects on the experiences common to many Indian communities in Latin America. Menchú suffered gross injustice and hardship in her early life: her brother, father and mother were murdered by the Guatemalan military.

Pancho Villa

A Revolutionary Life

Paco Ignacio Taibo II

Pancho Villa is a rollicking, sometimes hilariously comical, sometimes extremely violent, and always very personal portrait of the controversial Mexican historical figure Pancho Villa. Beloved crime writer Paco Ignacio Taibo, the prolific historian, biographer of Che Guevara and the founder of Mexican "neopolitical" fiction, brings his tremendous storytelling skills to an account of one of the Mexico's greatest legendary characters.
